Mayor Brown Refuses to Confer With Local Theatre Managers

STATEMENTS DO NOT AGREE

Mayor Tells Reporters Theatre Managers Have Not Asked for Conference

Theatre Men Produce Copy of Letter Delivered to Mayor Yesterday

Theatres May Not Open Sunday — Managers Say They Are at Sea

The differences between local theatre managers and Mayor George H. Brown reached the breaking point today when the mayor said he had not received any request from the managers for a conference and when the latter, represented by Samuel Torgan of the Strand, made public a letter containing such a request which, it is said, was addressed to Mayor Brown and delivered in person to him yesterday afternoon by the city messenger.

The letter follows:

January 9, 1922.
Hon. George H. Brown, Mayor, City of Lowell.
Dear Sir:

The Lowell theatre managers have requested that I write and ask you to meet them in a brief conference regarding your views on Sunday opening. It would please them greatly if same could occur on Tuesday of this week.

Very respectfully yours,
SAMUEL TORGAN, Secretary.

Mayor Brown was asked this morning by the newspaper men:

"Is there anything new in the theatre situation?"

"No," replied the mayor.

"Will there be any conference between you and the managers?"

"No," he answered.

"Have the theatre men requested a conference with you to talk over the situation?"

"No."

When interviewed this noon, Manager Torgan of the Strand said that in view of what has happened there was nothing left for him to do, representing the theatre managers, but to publish the letter he wrote and sent to the mayor as requested by his organization.

"Now that the mayor has denied receiving the letter and evidently intends to ignore us," said Mr. Torgan, "there probably will be a meeting of the managers to discuss the next step. Just what this will be I am not in position to say."

Speaking on the subject in his office this morning, the mayor said that he has designated next Sunday for the benefit of St. John's hospital and that unless the theatre men appeared before him with applications for Sunday licenses and stated that they represented the hospital and that they would not charge the hospital for the use of the theatre more than an amount represented by 50 per cent. of the net profits for the day, he would not recognize them.

"Licenses only will be approved for theatres as they represent worthy charities," said the mayor. "They must make their arrangements with such."

NEW CHARGES IN PELLETIER TRIAL

Allen Names Innes and Corcoran in Conspiracy to Shield Auto Thieves

Declares Pelletier Prevented Grand Jury From Returning Indictment

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Attorney General J. Weston Allen named Charles H. Innes, a lawyer of this city and William J. Corcoran, former district attorney of Middlesex county, as parties to a conspiracy with District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier to prevent prosecution of a ring of automobile thieves in 1918, when the supreme court hearing on the attorney general's petition for the removal of the district attorney from office on misconduct charges was resumed today.

In the specifications before the court, Mr. Pelletier is charged with having prevented the Suffolk county grand jury from returning an indictment against George T. Perry and others whom the police had arrested on charges of conspiring in the theft of automobiles. Objections by Pelletier's counsel to testimony by Perry as to conversations with Corcoran and others led Attorney General Allen to outline the nature of evidence he expected to offer.

BOY SHOT HIMSELF AFTER PET DOG DIED

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Nine-year-old Russell Mueller today is in a hospital with a self-inflicted bullet wound in his right thigh. He shot himself after his pet Boston terrier "Peggy" died yesterday. "I want to die," Russell sobbed. Last night a policeman visited the boy's home. He took his pistol from his holster and tucked it behind a cushion on a davenport. Then he with the boy's mother and other guests went into the library. A moment later the crash of a shot stopped the laughter.

"They found the boy crumpled on the floor, the big police pistol in his hand. Doctors fear the leg bones are shattered and that Russell will be crippled for life."

SENTENCED TO SALEM HOUSE OF CORRECTION

For the first time in the history of the local district court Judge Denright today committed an offender to a penal institution outside of Middlesex county. It occurred when the justice, owing to a certain regulation, sentenced Stephen Barharitz, originally of Lynn, to the Salem house of correction for six months for having escaped from the prison camp at Tewksbury last month. It appears that Barharitz was sentenced to the Salem institution from the Lynn court some time ago and later transferred to the Tewksbury institution. The court, owing to a certain ruling, stated he had to sentence the offender to the institution where he had been originally committed, this procedure thus establishing an unknown precedent in the district court.

OFFICER CALLED AT LOUD TRIAL

Melrose Policeman Went to Loud's House in Response to Call From Mrs. Loud

Statement Made by Accused Man on Night Officer Was Killed Rehearsed

CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 10.—The statement made by Clarence W. Loud when he reached his home in Melrose, on the night that Patrolman James A. Preston was shot and killed on a lonely road in Wakefield, last April, was rehearsed to the jury today, in Loud's trial for murder. The witness, Harold S. Wolley, a policeman of Melrose, testified that he went to Loud's home shortly before 11 p.m., in response to a telephone call from Loud's wife. He said he found Loud sitting in a chair in the living room, with his shoes and coat off. There were two bruises on his forehead and a cut on the back of his head. The witness said Loud told him he left home about 5:30 that evening, in his woman car No. 20284, drove toward Lynnfield, and later turned back and picked up his wife and daughter, and took them home. After the trial he started in the car toward Wakefield. On Lowell street he stopped to make some adjustment of the car and was leaning over the radiator when another car came up which, he said, was apparently a man and a woman. The man asked Loud whether he wanted any help and Loud replied in the negative. Loud said he then turned his attention to the car. Suddenly he saw a man confronting him and he remembered

INVENTORY COMMITTEE

Stock Takers Count Pictures, Maps, Desks, Chairs and Waste Baskets

The new committee on inventory, appointed by the board of public service to make a survey of the water, street and engineering departments, began its work this morning in the office of the water department. It was believed that the purpose of the committee and its work was to bring to the public service board a first-hand knowledge of the materials on hand in the several departments under its control and the condition of their serviceability but evidently the inventory will be much more sweeping and thorough inasmuch as this morning the committee confined itself to the furnishings of the water department office, such as pictures, maps, desks, chairs, waste baskets and other articles of usual office equipment.

SALARIES FIXED BY MAYOR BROWN

Sutton Wilson, appointed by Mayor George H. Brown as superintendent of ashes and waste collection, will receive a salary of $18 a week, the mayor announced today. Thomas Garvey, health department superintendent, who formerly had charge of the collection of both ashes and garbage, but who now only has the garbage collection, receives $33.00 per week. The mayor also said today that he had fixed the salary of Cornelius J. Croplin, appointed an registrar of unemployed labor, at $1800 per year.

BRITISH FORCES SOON TO LEAVE

All Troops to be Withdrawn From Ireland, Excepting Ulster, Says London Times

Movement Involving 50,000 Men Will Begin as Soon as Possible

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The Times declares that all British forces are to be withdrawn from Ireland, excepting Ulster, as rapidly as possible, the movement involving about 50,000 men.

The amusements to be granted by the British government, according to the newspaper, is expected to embrace all who can be regarded as coming under a generous construction of the phrase "political prisoners."

OFFICER BOUGHT WINE

Adams Street Man Arrested and 100 Gallons of Wine Seized

Sergeant Whinn and Patrolman P. Sullivan and Casses of the liquor squad this morning arrested George Poulas, of Adams street, on a charge of making an illegal sale. They also seized 100 gallons of wine contained in two barrels, after they alleged Poulas had sold one of the officers a bottle of wine for 60 cents. The alleged offender will be arraigned in district court tomorrow.

CONG. ROGERS ASSISTS

Joins Hultman in Fight to Reduce Taxes on Coal for Massachusetts

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Eugene C. Hultman, state fuel administrator, announced today that Congressman John Jacob Rogers of Lowell had interested himself in the question of the constitutionality of the taxes on coal imposed by the state of Pennsylvania and was continuing an effort to have the attorney general of the United States intervene in the matter. According to Mr. Hultman, the taxes mean an increase of $1,500,000 a year paid by consumers of coal in Massachusetts. In some instances, he says, the cost to the individual consumer reaches 25 cents a ton.

The plan of Mr. Hultman and Congressman Rogers is to ask Attorney General Daugherty to ascertain whether the tax is being included in the price of coal charged the Massachusetts retailers without its being mentioned as a tax, and, if this is so, whether a method could be devised under which the consumer would secure a refund should the levy be declared unconstitutional.

Thirty thousand persons are injured daily in the United States.

SEARCH HERE FOR BANK CLERK WANTED FOR LARCENY

Police Informed That Edward F. Gilmore Was in This City Last Week—Lynn Inspector Arrived Here Today—Gilmore Skipped With $20,000 in Stocks and Liberty Bonds

The country-wide search that is being made for Edward F. Gilmore, 23-year-old former clerk of the State National bank of Lynn, who is charged with having disappeared with $20,000 in stocks and liberty bonds, property of that bank, Dec. 31, was centered in Lowell today when a member of the Lynn police inspectors' department, accompanied by newspapermen of that city, appeared here and made efforts to locate the escaped youth.

The visit of the Lynn inspector brought to light the fact, confirmed by local police authorities, that, according to authentic information, Gilmore was in Lowell Wednesday, probably seeking refuge here on a likely flight.

Four Children Instantly Killed and 17 Injured When Train Hit School Bus

There are 350 men in the employ of the street department at the present time, but

MAYOR BROWN TALKS ON NOMINATIONS

Mayor George H. Brown said today he felt that until the city council cleans up the five nominations made by him to administrative offices and which have been tabled by the council, he does not feel like sending any more names to them for consideration. The council now has on the table the nomination of Charles E. Alway for chief of the fire department; W. G. MacBryne, for superintendent of police; Francis A. Warnock, for superintendent of public buildings; John Y. Myers, for purchasing agent, and Edward J. Mulvey, for superintendent of charities.

In preparation for next Thursday night's meeting of the council, the council met in conference last evening and for a brief time had Mayor Brown and Solicitor Tierney in the room with them. No report of the deliberations of the conference was given for publication.

Walked Out While Vote Was Being Taken on Election of Griffith

Speaker MacNeill Put the Motion and Griffith Was Unanimously Chosen

DUBLIN, Jan. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Arthur Griffith was elected president of the Dail Eireann today. Eamon de Valera and his followers walked out while the vote was being taken, in protest against the nomination of Griffith.

Speaker MacNeill put the motion for Griffith's election, and he was unanimously chosen.

Members of Cabinet Griffith moved the appointment of the following cabinet: Minister of Finance, Michael Collins. Foreign affairs, George Gavan Duffy. Home affairs, Eamon J. Duggan. Local government, William T. Cosgrave. Economic affairs, Bryan O'Higgins. Defense, Richard Mulcahy.

Arthur Griffith was one of the founders of the Sinn Fein movement and has been among the foremost leaders directing its activities. Its

SAW SOLDIER SHOT IN BACK

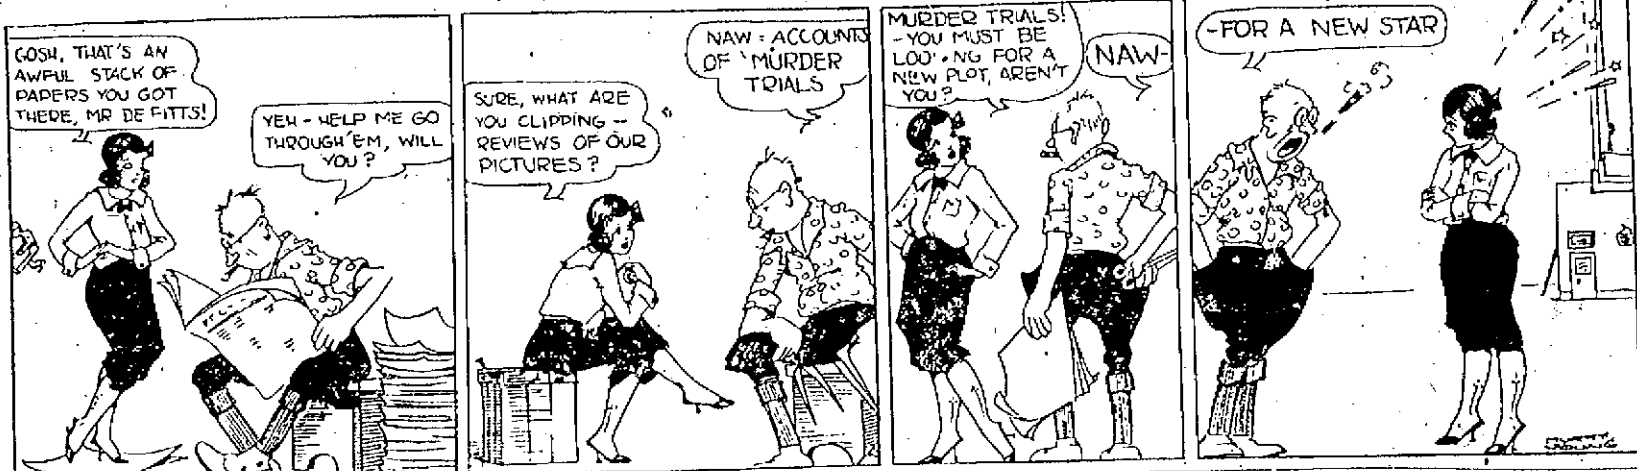

Chas. E. Fox Testifies He Saw

Major Opie Shoot Man in Uniform Near Verdun

Was 150 Feet Away—As Boy Was Shot He Threw Up Hands and Toppled Over

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Charles E. Fox of Richmond, Va., testified today before a senate investigating committee that he saw Major Herbert L. Opie of Stanton, Va., shoot a soldier in the back north of Verdun in 1918. "The man shot was wearing the American uniform," said Fox. "I was 150 feet away. As the boy was shot he threw up his hands and toppled over. I do not know if the man died. Sergeant Kane also saw the shooting." Fox declared the soldier was within six feet of the major when the shooting took place, that he had approached the officer and was moving off. "Do you know Opie?" Chairman Brandegee asked. "I was positive it was Major Opie. There was much talk in the company—Company B, 116th Infantry. The men wondered why the boy had been shot but they were afraid to ask about it." "You made no complaint?" "No sir; I was afraid."

REV. M. J. BYRNE DEAD Emerson and Loos Put Music Farce Twist Into Movie

Was Atlanta Prison Chaplain

—Formerly With Brothers in "Eight Bells"

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Rev. Michael J. Byrne, 64, chaplain at the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, and, before he entered the priesthood, of national fame as the head of "Byrne Brothers," "Eight Bells," a pantomime comedy that was performed continuously for 25 years, died at the Carney hospital yesterday morning, following an operation.

He was brought here by his son, James J. Byrne, of Cambridge, two weeks ago, in order that he might be placed under the care of Dr. Bottomley, a personal friend.

Rev. Fr. Byrne had an unusual career. He was born in Norwich, Conn., Nov. 22, 1857, the son of Joseph and Mary Byrne. He attended the public schools until he was about 16, when he matriculated at St. Paul's preparatory school at Pittsburg. He remained there two years, with the object in mind of studying for the priesthood. Ambition compelled him to give up his studies and he returned to his home.

At the age of 22 he joined his brothers, Matthew, John, James and Andrew, in Fred Webb's circus. Later the brothers joined Thatcher, Primrose and West's Minstrels. John wrote "Eight Bells," and after its premiere production in Norwich, all remained with it during its entire course of its successful run.

Michael J. Byrne was business manager of the show until he left it to enter St. Francis Seminary at Locust, Pa. He finished his studies four years later, was ordained by Bishop Corvey at Altoona, Pa., June 13, 1913, and went to Savannah, where he did parish work. Four years later he did parash work. Four years later he did parash work. Four years later he did parash work.

THE CABINET OF THE KINGDOM OF BUNKONIA DOWNS LIQUOR AND RAISES TAXES. THAT IS "RED HOT ROMANCE" IN WHICH MAY COLLINS IS THE HEROINE.

By JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—John Emerson and Anita Loos, who have been responsible for many clever scenarios, are now picture producers. Their first production is "Red Hot Romance," and is a fair sample of their ingenuity.

This picture is the old-fashioned musical farce adapted to the screen. Stories of musical farces are usually negligible. Music is their essential ingredient. Therefore, it is unlikely that there will be a vogue of musical farce adaptations to the screen.

The virtue of this picture is that it is the first one of its kind. New use has been made of familiar material. Like Sonnybun's breeches cut down from dad's.

A lounge lizard inherits a fifth avenue mansion and an income of $50 a week for the first year. His black servant is his major domo. The major domo backs various household articles to furnish his master with funds.

An ivory elephant is sold for funds to buy the hero's sweetheart orchids. When he calls with the orchids, his rival appears with the elephant. The girl ignores the flowers. The elephant was just what she wanted.

That is a typical Emerson-Loos twist. At the end of the first year the attorney arrives to read the will. One chair is all that is left in the house. That is sold to pay for the taxi that brought the attorney. The hero expecting to enjoy the fortune immediately. The will provides that the son shall be given an income of $25 a week and a job as insurance solicitor. If none of his risks result in loss in the en-

HE DARKENED HIS GRAY HAIR

TELLS HOW HE DID IT

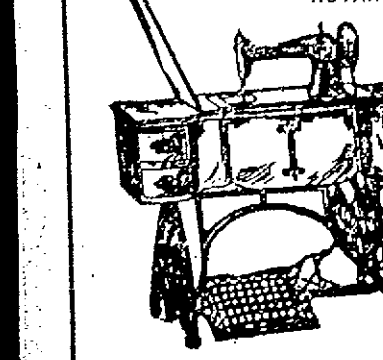

Mr. J. A. McCreary, a well known resident of California, who was called Daddy and Grandpa on account of his white hair, and who darkened it with a home-made mixture, recently made the following statement:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of barbo compound and 4 ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—Adv.

downing liquor and raising taxes long enough to take out $500 in policies. The revolutionists will kill them.

The revolutionists finally get the best of everything but the major domo. He leads the marines, all his color, to the rescue. That's real music farce stuff.

One interesting thing about "Red Hot Romance" is a new combination of actors. Basil Sydney, the English actor, is the hero. He registers unusually well. May Collins is the heroine. Frank Lator, Sully Edwards, Olive Valente, Carl Stockdale, Roy Atwell and Henry Warwick are others not often seen together in pictures.

THE NEXT ARTIST FILM

The picture just completed by George Arliss is "The Ruling Passion." In it he is a philanthropist who resumes business life after making a fortune and retiring. That believes him heartily and contentment. Which goes to prove that most of our fund greater contentment in our daily tasks than we realize until we come doing them.

ON LOCATION

Film "Alpha" to "The Magnificent Ambersons," by Booth Tarkington, have been bought by Vitaphone.

"The Ruling Passion" is the third comedy release of Ernest Frank, the director of "The Ruling Passion." Good DeMille says that genuine comedy is needed in pictures, that the camera shows up limitations.

Glenn Anderson was once a Senett bathing beauty—but she can't swim. This was learned during the filming of a scene of "Beyond the Rocks" when she had to plunge into the sea to be rescued by Rudolph Valentino.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KELTH'S THEATRE

The program at B. F. Kelth's theatre this week is easily the best shown at this playhouse for many a moon, containing as it does many plays which would pass easily as head liners.

Johnny Burke, however, is the peer of them all. Mr. Burke is a musical comedy star who is taking a fling at the serious end of the stage. He has a line of talk relative to his experiences during the war, from the time of the draft call to the cessation of hostilities, and is certainly to arouse any audience. All this talk is strongly reminiscent of what we heard during the early stages of the war, but sounds much sadder in Johnny Burke's version.

Madame Besson in "The Woman Who Knew" shows herself a splendid emotional actress. Everything she ranges from merrily to the tender emotions of a young, desolated mother, and back again, with consummate skill. Her superb acting is well exemplified in the scene in which Madame Besson is the "other woman." The battle of wills with the shrewish lawyer for the custody of the child furnishes the theme for the playlet. Although the lawyer, apparently, emerges the winner, the audience is quick to value Madame Besson's excellent work.

Henry Adler and Rose Dunbar present an excellent comedy act. Adler has one of the funniest faces ever seen at Kelth's, producing mirth with a single facial movement. He is an excellent mimic also. His partner, Miss Dunbar, is an excellent foil for his comedy.

Miss Lois Bennett is billed as "A Western Sunset." She is certainly a ray of sunshine and possesses a voice of no great strength but of infinite sweetness. Her assiduous phrasing, her clear and excellent voice and is an accomplished pianist.

Hickey and Hart in "Setting the Pace" are a pair of agile dancers. Miss Hart is a very pretty girl, and with her partner, Mr. Hickey, goes through a rapid-fire, modern, acrobatic dancing act in a most graceful style.

Josie O'Meers, "The dainty girl of the wire," opens the bill with a singing and dancing number executed in mid-air. The Hayataka brothers, in "The Hayataka Brothers," present the best closing feature seen here for years.

Topics of the Day, Aspo's fables and fable news are excellent motion attractions.

of George Melford's production, which is adapted from the play of E. M. Hull. Those who follow the silver screen thought they had seen Rudolph Valentino at his best in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" but in this picture, cast as the sheik, he is even better. He is ably supported by Agnes Ayres, who presents a charming appearance in every one of the many scenes.

The story deals with the adventures of Diana Mayo, an English girl, whose part is portrayed by Miss Ayres, who comes into the edge of the desert seeking adventure. She is attracted to a young Arab, a youth who has been educated in Paris but called to take charge of the Arabs when his father dies.

Diana Mayo is quartered in the city of Biskra and after a series of escapades, including a romance, she is rescued by her father, who is a conservative. The night previous to her departure Hassan and his tribe, who are the city for a night of fun. The sheik takes over the radio and the word is passed around that none but Arabs will be allowed to enter the city.

Diana Mayo is herself as a dancing girl and slips by the guards only to be discovered by Hassan and gently, but firmly, escorted from the building. Leaving the home, Hassan makes love to her she repulses him.

Hassan receives a note from a college friend, Rudolph, who is in the city for a night of fun. He decides to leave the home, Hassan makes love to her she repulses him.

The girl dreads a meeting with the Parisian, but she is so attracted to him that she goes. Hassan returns her clothes to her.

While riding out one day, Hubert persuades Hassan to allow him to leave the home. Hassan assents and receives word Diana has been captured by bandits. A chase follows in which Hassan finds her in the desert. He finally rescues her, but is wounded. While Hassan is recovering, Hubert tells an interesting story of his life, which changes things about completely.

"ROMANCE WEEK"

President Warren C. Harding believes that the spirit of a new good times era is here with the dawn of 1922. The Black theatre, which has been designated as "Romance week" in every one of its theatres stretching from New York to New England. People who have been in a rut, who have been disappointed, who have lost their faith, will find a new world of romance and entertainment in the land of romance where they can forget their cares and worries and have a good time.

The biggest, most elaborate, and in fact, the best screen production shown at the Strand theatre in a long time, is without doubt "The Scandal." A first class photograph which is being shown for the first three days of the week. This is one of the Vitaphone Co.'s million dollar productions which has taken up an entire town in its make-up. This long film, which proves enjoyable from beginning to end, was seen by thousands of people yesterday's performances and all were unanimous in their praise for this wonderful photoplay.

The play deals with a young man, the son of a rich man, who is just wise enough in his dealings to keep out of jail. The son endeavors not to follow the footsteps of his father and in order to keep along the straight path he leaves home and seeks his fortune in a little town, where he directs his energy to doing good with hope of striking oil. His plans are frustrated, however, by the appearance of his father, who through skill and crookedness, succeeds in getting the confidence of the inhabitants of the town. The father is about to put one more over when his plans are interfered with by a blaze, which threatens to destroy the entire town. What follows is most interesting and must be seen to be appreciated. The production is full of interesting scenes, among which is that of an elaborate chase from prison. Another very attractive scene is that which shows the son of Wallingford and his fiancée paddling their own canoe on a blazing oil lake. The heroic rescue of the pair is a wonderful piece of work.

"A Wife's Awakening" is another delightful production. This has to do with a handsome, young woman, whose husband, through crooked financial deals, is about to reach the end of his rope. The young husband forces his wife to go out and secure money in order to keep him away from prison. She gets the required sum from her mother only to see it sink in another bad deal. Then the husband accuses his wife, having secured the money in a dishonest way, and attempts to force her to go out and get more. Then comes the climax, which is too good to tell about on paper.

In addition to the plays already mentioned there is also a pleasing comedy and a series of current events that are very interesting. The musical numbers also add considerably to the general enjoyment of the program.

"Rip Van Winkle" the story known to every American mind and endeared to every American heart through the wonderful work of Joseph Jefferson, old time actor, opened a three day run at the Merrimack theatre yesterday afternoon and delighted a capacity audience beyond all measure. The screen characterization was a most clever one, and the fact that the leading role, that of "Rip," was played by Jefferson's son, Thomas Jefferson, who is due to play a role so familiar to that of his father, The visible change that

Public is Amazed at Continued Enormous Demand for Tanlac

People All Over America Want to Know What Is Behind the Phenomenal Success of This Preparation That Makes It the World's Greatest Tonic.

Day after day the question is being asked all over the United States and Canada: What is the reason for the phenomenal success of Tanlac? Why do we hear so much about it? And why do Tanlac sales keep increasing every year, when other medicines seem to have a short-lived popularity and are then forgotten?

The answer is simple enough. The test of time has proven to people all over the American continent that Tanlac always produces most gratifying results and that the remarkable relief it brings seems to be more permanent than ever before.

Tens of thousands of persons, everywhere, who took it when it was first introduced six years ago, report that they are still enjoying excellent health and millions of American homes are now using Tanlac as the family medicine after first trying it out thoroughly and proclaiming it the World's Greatest Tonic.

Thousands of men and women of all ages and in all walks of life afflicted with stomach, liver and kidney disorders, some of the most long standing, as well as thousands of weak, thin, nervous men and women apparently on the verge of collapse have testified publicly that they have been fully restored to their normal health, strength and weight by its use.

Still others, who seemed fairly well, yet who suffered with indigestion, headaches, shortness of breath, dizzy spells, sour, gassy stomach, coated tongue, foulness of breath, constipation, bad complexion, loss of appetite, sleeplessness at night and terribly dejected, depressed feelings, state that they have been entirely relieved of these distressing symptoms and restored to health and happiness by taking Tanlac.

Tanlac has never been advertised as a cure-all or that it would perform unheard-of wonders. The advertising has been clean, straightforward and conservative. Actual facts and figures have been stated and stated in a business-like way that has commanded the confidence of all in the conservative claims set forth.

The enormous demand for Tanlac is due to merit alone, for no amount of advertising would continue to sell an article that does not possess real merit. Unless full value underlies the article advertised, the advertising will ultimately fail of its own weight. "You can fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

Tanlac has been well advertised. It is true, but such a large and rapidly growing demand could not be brought about by advertising alone. It is what the people themselves say that counts. One bottle of Tanlac is sold in a neighborhood through advertising, but ten more are sold in that same community as a result of the sale of the first bottle. And that is why Tanlac has succeeded. People are always willing to talk about their ailments, but they are more than glad to tell others of the medicine that helped them. It is something they could not keep to themselves. If they tried, for the impulse to sympathize with your fellowman and want to help him is one of the strongest, as well as one of the biggest, things in human nature.

That is the reason why the people of every section of the United States and Canada have come to speak of Tanlac as the World's Greatest Tonic. And that is the reason why the demand for this remarkable medicine has grown to such proportions that it is almost impossible to keep dealers supplied.

Tanlac and Tanlac Vegetable Pills are sold in Lowell by Green's drug store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative by Wright Drug Co., Worcester, Mass.; A. D. Wells, Chicoford, Mass.; Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass.; and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

COUPLE RESCUED FROM DROWNING IN CHARLES

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Cries of a man and a girl coming from a deserted part of the Charles river have started the residents of the houses along Bay State road early last evening and attracted the attention of Russell Stearns and Norman Hunt, residents of No. 264.

As a result, Dorothy Williams and Archie Wiltz, the former a Simmons girl and the latter a Tech student, are safely in their dormitories today instead of at the bottom of the basin.

Messrs. Stearns and Hunt hurried from their apartments to the edge of the basin, where they dimly discerned a man and a girl struggling in the water of an ice hole some distance off shore. They climbed over the railing and made their way carefully to a point as near the edge of the hole as they dared, in the meantime shouting to the man and girl to hold on, as help was coming.

Then making a human chain, with the help of others who had by this time reached the spot, they crawled over the ice, to the accompaniment of loud and threatening cracks, until they were close enough to the struggling people to pull them out of the water to safety.

Considerable difficulty was found in getting the man and girl up onto ice strong enough to hold them as the edge crumbled under the weight of both rescued and rescuers. Finally the feat was accomplished, however, and the couple were taken to the apartments of their rescuers, where they were given hot baths, drinks and dry clothing.

Both Miss Williams and Mr. Wiltz were thoroughly chilled by their immersion in the icy water, they having been in it for about 10 minutes before being rescued.

They stated that they had started skating at a point near the Cottage Farm bridge and continued downstream toward Harvard bridge. They were skating tandem fashion, Mr. Wiltz skating backward and Miss Williams forward. They had no inkling that there were in any danger, they said, until there was a sudden crackling noise and the ice gave way beneath their feet.

Mr. Wiltz dropped suddenly into the water and Miss Williams immediately followed. They sank under the icy water, but were able to rise to the edge of the pool and grasp the ice rim.

FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

DR. TRUE'S ELIXIR

The True Family Laxative

Mothers with their home worries are often irregular at meals—have no appetite—are often restless at night—are tired and are troubled with distressed stomachs—need a prompt, pure herb laxative, and such is Dr. True's Elixir, the True Family Laxative. The Business man is apt to neglect his health, may eat too hurriedly and at irregular hours. Often, this puts the bowels out of order—they fail to function properly—causing fretfulness, taking away the appetite, slowing down the active mind. To relieve these conditions, have a bottle of Dr. True's Elixir handy. Use it as others have done during the past 70 years.

When the children are out of sight they often eat too many sweets or rich foods. This brings on constipation in many cases.

Watch these symptoms: Constipation, sour stomach, cramps, eyes heavy and dull, bad breath, restlessness, and biliousness. These are common to both children and grown-ups and call for prompt use of a laxative.

To properly cleanse and purify the intestinal tract which is essential to good health; to ward off and relieve constipation and its attending evils, use the True Family Laxative, Dr. True's Elixir. 40c—60c—$1.20.

All their efforts to climb up on the ice were unavailing, as the edge cracked continuously.

Then, as there were no other skaters in sight, they decided that their only hope of being saved was to attract the attention of some one in a nearby house. Therefore they began their calls for help. For several minutes the echo of their voices was all they got for their efforts and both were getting thoroughly chilled.

As their strength was ebbing and their powers of resisting the cold were fast failing, they were cheered by the answers of Messrs. Stearns and Hunt and the shouts of the latter urging them to hold on, in a few more minutes they found themselves hauled out of their icy bath upon the solid ice and in a short time revelling in the warmth of hot baths, drinks and dry clothing.

HOW BOOKS FOR THE BLIND ARE PRINTED

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 10.—Louisville has a printing shop such as is found nowhere else in the United States. Its books for elementary grades weigh fifteen pounds; its type setting machine have only six keys as compared with the 90-dot combinations possible in the average type setting machine, and a hammer and nail punch are the tools of the proof reader. Miss Susan B. Morvin, superintendent, says all this is true, and she probably knows.

The publishing house with these queer devices is the American Printing House for the Blind, and because of its publications thousands of blind persons read what otherwise would not be available to them.

The federal government pays the house $50,000 annually, and for this amount books are provided for 50 schools for the blind throughout the country. As an indication of the volume of work put out by the house, the report for the last fiscal year shows that 3,459,786 pages of printed matter and 12,550 bound volumes were produced, and in addition, 4211 pamphlets and 1044 copies of musical selections were printed.

The type setting machines have only six keys because the alphabet for the blind comprises six points or dots, with each letter consisting of from one to six dots, in different combinations.

Sheet brass is used in the machines, the words being punched in the metal. The plates go from the machines to the proof reader, who removes all mistakes with a hammer and a nail punch.

Plates then are sent to the press room, where they are placed on cylinder presses, which use paper that has been immersed in water for 24 hours so that the texture will not be torn.

Lack of a single code complicates the work of the establishment, Miss Morvin says. There are three codes—the New York Point, the American Braille and the revised Braille. Type of all of these systems is used at the plant.

FEELING OF OPTIMISM IN HOSIERY MANUFACTURING CIRCLES

Lowell Hosiery Company Reflects General Tendency --- Lowell Output Handled Through New York Offices --- Some Mill Gossip

New York and Boston hosiery buyers report increasing sales of silk and wool hose for women. There is a feeling of optimism in hosiery manufacturing circles generally, and The Sun was informed today that business at the Lowell Hosiery Co. on Mt. Vernon street is reflecting this general tendency in fair shape, considering the most conditions on raw wool and cotton.

The Lowell Hosiery Co. is running now on a "two-thirds basis," an expression that fairly fills the bill. Manager Sparks informed a reporter that there is no boom in sight at all, and he does not want to be quoted as saying that the future is going to be a record-breaker, but there isn't any pessimism to be found in the hosiery company offices or manufacturing quarters, and everyone on Mt. Vernon street is in the immediate vicinity of the big hosiery plant is looking for better times.

The Sun was informed that orders are being manufactured regularly to fill the New York headquarters demand. Practically all the Lowell output is now handled directly through the New York offices.

The spring samples of the Lowell hosiery output are now on display in the headquarters sales offices, and the line is one of the best ever shown to the wholesalers. The silk and wool hosiery is turned out promptly, the quality being extra good for the rather erratic market.

Staple wools have begun to take a push upward in price, although it has been a case of up and down and the wool sales houses and buyers for some time. Owing to the irregular price quotations, mills are not speaking up heavily. The Sun was informed.

For instance, a large hosiery concern will send out orders for certain grades of wool. The orders appear to be good enough for more buying right along, and this arouses the profit instinct of the man who has the wool. Immediately he dumps his price, and with a nice profit in view, proceeds to hold to that price while the mills hang back and limit their orders to small quantities to all current orders. It has been a sort of battle-royal right along in the game of getting good buys from holders of wool stocks, with a tendency on the part of wool merchants to hold for higher prices or jump prices just as soon as there is any demand.

Hosiery people say the wool market cannot go much higher if the stocking industry is to do any great amount of business, but Lowell hosiery men believe the time is coming, and soon—when the wanted materials can be bought to better advantage. They believe prices all around the big hosiery circle will come down eventually and allow the mills to return to normal production.

The cotton market has not been so erratic of late, but the tendency has been to slightly increase prices.

There is a better demand for new varieties of hosiery something along the dark colored, brown and leather effects. The mills are prepared for anything of this kind, however, and The Sun has inspected a novel display of varied-colored hose for women's wear today that was brand new.

The demand is better for fine silk and artificial silk hosiery, which prices are adjusted to meet both the wholesaler's and retailer's idea of what such lines ought to sell for. The Lowell hosiery output of the many new varieties for women's exclusive wear, is attractive.

"Business conditions?" said a representative of the company in response to a little questioning on 1922 prospects. "Just say that we are entirely optimistic. The Lowell hosiery has been in business for about 60 years here, and Lowell, we are glad to say, is our home and will continue to be our home. I don't know of any better place to find good workmen and women for our line of work. We are entirely confident that the hosiery industry is going to be on a sounder basis before many months now. We are running fairly good right now, but not at all normal, of course. Communication house orders continue stable. No one is getting worried, and here along you will see the industry where it belongs."

Dispatches from New York today announce a better and steadily increasing sale of novelty weather hosiery. In the last few weeks and although the cold and checked health are receiving their share of attention, considerably more interest is being given to newer effects. The latest form of hosiery is in all sorts of color combinations and in checks, plaids and stripes, and according to the New York and Boston buyers of stockings. The new vogue for tweed suits for both men and women will also help the sale of this kind of hosiery for general wear.

Local Mill Gossip
The administrative forces of the John Pilling Shoo company are moving into the new offices on the second floor of the recently enlarged office building connected with the shoe factory. The office formerly had but one story, and the increasing business of the shoe manufacturing concern, required such a large executive force that more room was necessary for the officers, clerks and the staff of salesmen.

Mr. Pilling took a Sun reporter through the new second-story addition and explained in detail just what the concern is doing to push along the prosperity campaign. The new offices are among the very finest in the country. There are many large windows, a new equipment of oak desks of the very latest variety, numerous modern office equipments rarely found in a shoe manufacturing establishment, and an extra lot of room "to move around in." Thousands of dollars have been expended on the new office addition, and the concern is prepared to go ahead with the very best arrangements for both production and shipment of goods.

The present method of shipping all goods upon receipt of orders, directly from the factory, is believed to be better than the former method of disposing of goods through outside agencies. It is to be, in the future, a direct-to-the-buyer plan, which has worked out better than the old. The Sun is informed.

The Pilling trade mark, now known all over North America and some foreign countries, goes on every shoe box. Already a very large supply of shoes in current demand is ready for shipment, and Mr. Pilling is not afraid of the future. Stock-taking has been completed and the program adjusted for the New Year's business.

Business conditions at the Ipswich hosiery mills on Warren street remain about the same as reported a month ago. Market conditions are still unstable, and the general outlook from that concern's executive offices compares with the opinion expressed at the Lowell hosiery plant. The wool and cotton markets are being followed closely by all local buyers.

It is announced that Duncan Rogers has been appointed advertising manager of the Ipswich mills, with an office with Lawrence & Co., the Ipswich shills selling agents at 80 Franklin street, Boston. The Ipswich people control four hosiery mills at the present time.

DINNER AND DANCE
The dinner and dance to be conducted by Bishop Delany assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, on Feb. 24, promises to be one of the most gratifying successes in the assembly's annals, according to reports heard at a meeting of the committee in charge last night.

Reports came from the sub-committee in charge of dinner, decorations, hall, invitations, music and speakers, who were most enthusiastic over the progress made. After the plans had been thoroughly discussed and approved, was taken until Jan. 15. Pathfinders William H. Gallagher is chairman of the committee.

$200,000 Loss by Fire in Ashland Mill

ASHLAND, Jan. 10.—The Angier mills plant of three buildings on Main street, was destroyed by fire early today. The damage was estimated at $200,000. No one was injured. The mills normally employ 60 hands in the manufacture of waterproof paper. The fire started in the coating room of a one-story and spread rapidly to the larger two and three story buildings. All the buildings were of brick. A spark from one of the machines is thought to have started the fire. The fire departments of Framingham, Westboro and Natick were summoned to assist the local firemen.

where Vitamines are necessary, organic iron is also necessary. For centuries scientists tried in vain to produce organic iron. At last the problem was solved, so that you may now obtain pure organic iron from any drugstore under the name of "Nuxated Iron" which is ready for immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood the moment it enters the system.

If you merely wish to gain greater strength, energy, vigor and endurance take "Nuxated Iron" and DO NOT TAKE VITAMINES UNLESS YOU WISH YOUR WEIGHT INCREASED up to what a person should normally weigh. We do not claim, however, that Vitamines will put flesh on everybody. Some people are naturally too thin, and will probably remain so in spite of Vitamines and everything else.

Those whose meals consist of bread, soups, white bread, meats of various kinds, fish, potatoes, lima beans, etc., are likely to suffer from under-nourishment and a weakened physical condition due to a deficiency of both Vitamine and Organic Iron, no matter how much they eat, and in such cases both Vitamines and Nuxated Iron should be taken.

Arrangements have been made with the drugists in this city to give every reader of this paper a large $1.00 package of Genuine Yeast Vitamine Tablets, absolutely FREE, with every bottle of Nuxated Iron that you purchase. KILLS HIS WIFE AND HIMSELF

Chelsea Man Also Shot and
Seriously Wounded His
Sister-in-Law

Opened Fire as Women Were Leaving Factory After
Day's Work

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Weakened physically and mentally by the ravages of tuberculosis and laboring under the hallucination that his wife was disloyal to him, John Waller, aged 30, an engineer and steamfitter, shot and killed his wife, Gladys, aged 28, as she was leaving the Chadbourne & Moore wool factory, on Carter street, Chelsea, just after 5 yesterday afternoon, shot and seriously wounded her sister, Mrs. Annie Johns, aged 37, of 42 Chatham road, Everett, who was with her, and then committed suicide by shooting himself through the head.

After shooting his wife and sister-in-law Waller ran along Carter street to 6th street, and then up 6th street about 200 yards, when he placed the revolver to his head and pulled the trigger. He died instantly and was found clutching the weapon in his right hand. It was a .32-caliber revolver, and it appears that four shots were fired, which took effect.

Mrs. Waller was shot in the face and in the back, and Mrs. Johns was shot in the left breast.

Couple Living Apart
Waller and his wife had not been living together for about a year. They have one daughter, Marion, aged 7, who attends the Carter school in Chelsea. She has been with her mother for the past year and they have occupied a room at the home of Mrs. Charles W. Henderson, 227 Washington ave., Chelsea.

The shooting caused great excitement among the employees of the factory who were quitting work for the day, and also among a large throng of young people who were skating on the Carter street grounds, opposite the factory.

According to the story told by several eyewitnesses, Waller was standing on Carter street a short distance from the outer gate of the Chadbourne & Moore factory when his wife and her sister, both of whom worked for the concern, left the factory. The three of them had been punched by the sisters and, registered 5 p. m.

As the two women started to walk across to Carter street in the direction of Everett, Waller approached them. He kept talking to them as they walked into the Carter street playground. He was excited and using insulting language to his wife. Mrs. Waller told her husband she was going home with her sister. He replied: "You are not; you must come up Carter street with me tonight." His wife said: "No, I am afraid."

Waller then drew a revolver from his pocket and shot Mrs. Johns in the left breast. She fell. Mrs. Waller turned and fled across Carter street toward the gate from which she had just emerged.

Kills Wife at Factory Gate
Her husband fired at her and the bullet struck her high in the back. As she entered the factory yard she tumbled and fell on her face. Waller followed her and firing her with his left hand, reached underneath with his revolver and shot her in the face. The bullet passing through her head, it is likely that this was the fatal shot.

He dropped the body of his wife face down on the ground and fled out of the gate. He turned and ran along Carter street and up 6th street till he had reached a point almost at the intersection of the two streets, when he shot and killed himself.

Ernest Sola, aged 17, of 154 Nichols street, Everett, who was passing, saw the tragedy. He ran to the assistance of Mrs. Johns. Her coat was on fire from the powder and he put out the blaze. Mrs. Johns said: "I am dying; get help." Sola heard two shots fired and saw Waller running away with the revolver in his hand.

He chased Waller along 6th street and once, when Waller turned, Sola threw himself on the ground, believing Waller intended to shoot him. He was gaining on Waller when the latter committed suicide.

Mrs. Johns was taken to the Chelsea Memorial hospital in a passing automobile and had several hemorrhages on the way there. She is injured seriously, but it is expected that she will recover. The bullet apparently just missed her heart and did not puncture her lung, according to a statement by a physician.

TRIES TO END LIFE IN JAIL

Aged Man Convicted of Arson Makes Serious Attempt at Suicide

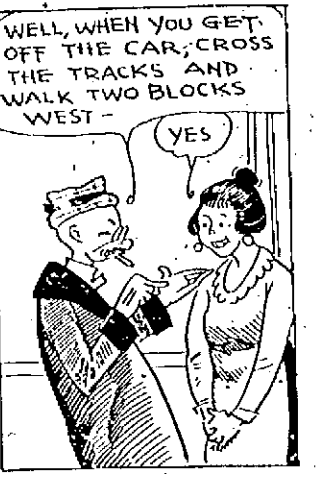

BELEFAST, Me., Jan. 10.—Daniel Meservy, 74, convicted last night of burning the farm buildings on the homestead at Morrill, which he had devoted to his son, Frank C. Meservy on condition that he be given a home there during his life, made a serious attempt at suicide in the county jail early today, jabbing his neck with a pocket knife. He was unconscious, but a physician thought he might recover.

SOLDIERS SORRY TO LEAVE RHINE

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Many of the 928 American soldiers who arrived from the Rhine last night, on the transport (Cantigny), said they were sorry to leave home. Life had been "pretty good" over there, they said, with all the marks one got for his American dollar.

NEW DAYLIGHT SAVING BILL

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Representative Andrew P. Doyle of New Bedford, yesterday filed in the house a bill to provide for a seven months period of daylight saving this year. The Doyle bill would put the clock ahead on

$70,000 Fire Loss at Submarine Base

PANAMA, Jan. 10.—Fire in the Coco Solo submarine base last night destroyed the bachelor officers' quarters and the torpedo control school, and damaged the other buildings. The loss is estimated at $70,000.

hour of the last Sunday of March and put it back an hour on the last Sunday in October. The period of daylight saving under the present law begins the last Sunday in April and ends the last Sunday in September. A bill to repeal all daylight saving plans has been filed already by Senator Latham W. Griswold of Greenfield.

AMENDMENT TO THE CITY CHARTER

A bill providing for an amendment to the city charter, whereby it will become the authority of the election commission to designate the hours at which the polls shall open at a city primary, introduced into the legislature by Representative Arthur W. Griswold of Greenfield.

Section 2 of the charter, in which the proposed amendment applies, now states that "the polls shall open at 12 o'clock noon and close not earlier than 8 p. m."

OBSERVED HER 102d BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Carlissa P. Smith of Braintree has been receiving congratulations upon reaching her 102d birthday last Sunday. She is believed to be the oldest person residing in this vicinity. Although kept in the house, she possesses most of her faculties and was able Sunday to converse with all callers and entertain informally several relatives who were present during the day.

Mrs. Smith was born in Boston, Canada, Jan. 8, 1820 and came to Braintree in 1839. She is the daughter of Ezra and Sarah Foster and is the last of a family of eight children, nearly all of whom enjoyed a long life. She was married to Henry Smith in 1853. At one time, Mrs. Smith worked as a weaver in a Lowell cotton mill. Her husband died about 40 years ago as the result of a fall at the Weymouth Exchange building.

DISABLED AMERICAN VETERANS Commander William H. Green of the Massachusetts department of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, will be present at the meeting of Lowell chapter, No. 8, to be held in Memorial hall this evening. Business of important character is to be transacted by the assembly. The development of the chapter should be on hand. Among the important items will be the presentation of the proposed constitution and by-laws by the state commander to the officers of the local chapter.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION Delegates from several societies in the city gathered last night at the Memorial hall church for a meeting of the local Christian Endeavor union. A supper at 6 o'clock was followed by a conference on committee and a long service by the assembly. The devotion was led by Rev. Chapman. Rev. John Singleton gave an address on "A New Year's Message," in which he pointed out many essentials in the work of the coming year which might be used to broaden the scope of activities.

COTTON REPORT WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Cotton futures prior to January 1, amounted to 1,553,272 running bales, including 123,326 round bales, counted as half bales; 30,003 bales of American-Egyptian and 2,196 bales of sea island. To January 1 last year, 11,553,545 bales were shipped including 2,212,727 round bales; 64,282 bales of American-Egyptian and 119 of sea island.

JOINT INSTALLATION EXERCISES HELD

The joint installation of the officers of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary at the American Legion hall, 120 N. W. 3, was held last evening in Memorial hall and the affair was largely attended. Prior to the business meeting the supper was served by a committee from the auxiliary headed by Mrs. Ida Parnett and this was followed by appropriate remarks by Commander stock company offerings with a penchant for "first nights," crowded that popular amusement auditorium again last evening and received another surprise. To put it plainly the offering provided by Miss Marguerite Fields and her competent players was a brilliant performance throughout—a real success

Camden Man's Amazing Message to Rheumatics

After Suffering Intense Agony for Many Years—He Wants to Tell Others.

Dr. Briggs: I simply had to write and tell you what your wonderful Camphorol has done for me. For many years I suffered the tortures of Rheumatism as only those who have it know. At the same time I had a terrible itch, and covered with sores, the sharp pains were so severe, I could not sleep. I did not get up to rub and scratch. It almost drove me crazy. I tried doctor after doctor and all kinds of medicine I was told to take, which only made me worse. I could not bend my knees. I am a steamfitter by trade and had to give up my work. Seeing your advertisement in a paper, I thought I would take another chance. I tried Camphorol. I started to get better right away. After using two jars of Camphorol I am well and happy and have gone back to work. I shall never forget the day I took a charge on Camphorol. After 10 years I suffered, it feels so good to be well again. Robert W. Teeddale, 2017 Biga St., Camden, N. J.

At all Drug Stores

At a recent meeting of Integrity Staff Association, L. C. M. B. the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: William Pushee, president; Peter Hancock, vice president; A. W. Henderson, secretary-treasurer and pianist; James D. McAvoy, chief of staff; and Sidney Pryor, assistant chief of staff. The officers were later installed by Deputy John H. Barrett, assisted by W. G. Arthur Capper.

upon the story of "Tipp Van Winkle" and his 20 years of wanderings. The story was written originally by Washington Irving and was immortalized on the stage by "Doc" Jefferson. It follows the footsteps of his father in the title role and that the screen version of the drama gives even more color than the original. The story is told in a way which his father had to contend with. "Tipp" is the broken dream of a Dutch settler of the Catskills, a Dutch settlement of colonists who preserve their quaint customs with characteristic touch. He is addicted to drink and at the tavern, haunting in the woods or playing with the children of the village, and because of this restless life he is the "Gretchen" who is the terror of the neighborhood. The first years of their married life were spent in happiness but now, "Tipp" is just living from day to day, enjoying the confines of the tavern and the drunken sleep there. He has one daughter, Maudie, who is betrothed to the youthful son of the tavern proprietor and who is the only friend in "Tipp's" life. Matters finally come to a head and the infuriated wife, who rumbles with his gun and dog in the woods, is driven from the home. "Tipp" is driven from the home by his gun and dog in the woods, and is accepted by a gnomish who asks him to carry a keg of wine as far as the gnome settlement. "Tipp" accepts on condition that he is to drink some of the liquid. When he finally arrives at his destination he takes a drink. He settles down on the ground and goes into a deep slumber. He awakes 20 years later. "Tipp" finally wakes up and finds himself aging with rheumatism and old age. He has also grown a flowing beard. He sets out again for the village and is the laughing stock of the settlement in his ragged condition, and has a hard job to convince the inhabitants of his identity. Meanwhile, the wife, believing "Tipp" dead, marries a schemer who is endeavoring to take over the life, but is finally remaining property and who is leaving her a life of fear and misery. The arrival of the whiskered old man relieves a long strain in the household and settles everything as it ought to be.

Opera House

Lowell patrons of the Opera House

—for no better work has been seen in Lowell all season than that presented by the players last evening in Cosmo Hamilton's romantic comedy, "Scandal," produced under the direction of Louis Albion. There were no "two part" wins for leads last evening. Each player had a part that suited the individual performer, the production was smooth and there was evidence of thorough study of each part. From "heads" down to "pawes" and "Mrs. Brown," the performance was creditable in every respect.

Why Dread Old Age?

As Pelham Franklin, Beatrice's choice after the semi-tragedies of the tale were untold, Harry Hollingsworth was the ardent lover with enforced restraint, and his watch throughout was a genuine revelation. He is a master of stage presence, dialogue and unaffected action.

Mr. Matus, as Sutherland York, appeared as the heart-free artist in Bohemia, and the applause that greeted him on his appearance, early in the first act, shows how much his two works with the Lowell players have been appreciated all season by theatre patrons.

Why Dread Old Age?

It doesn't make much difference how old you are if you only keep in good health and are active. Many people appear older at 80 than others do at 10, to keep looking young you have got to enjoy good health, and do as little worrying as possible. Backaches, swollen joints and legs, disturbed sleep by being compelled to arise one or more times during the night are sure symptoms of kidney troubles, to avoid serious consequences, SEVEN BARKS, nature's remedy of roots and herbs, is one of the best remedies, but take not only for affected kidneys, but for liver, stomach and heart troubles.

Middle-aged people realize that they cannot perform their work or move around as fast as formerly. The internal organs feel the effect of age and do not perform their work properly. The heart palpitates on the slightest exertion and the back aches after a day's work. The muscles and flesh get flabby; and the blood thinner than formerly. It is then you need a good tonic and bowel regulator—you cannot find a more reliable and efficient remedy for these conditions than SEVEN BARKS.

If you want to enjoy life, recover some of your youthful vigor and have the glow of health, get SEVEN BARKS of your druggist. Do not accept a substitute. Adv.

With this very constipating diet—yet no constipation

Under the supervision of a leading scientist a remarkable feeding experiment was made. For one whole month men and women were given eggs, milk, cheese—all constipating foods—and yet they did not suffer from constipation because they added Fleischmann's Yeast to their diet.

When they ate the same constipating diet without Fleischmann's Yeast as a corrective, all four were constipated.

Thousands of men and women all over the country have found that eating Fleischmann's Yeast daily gives them normal and regular elimination. Fresh yeast is rich in the elements which increase the action of the intestines and keep the body clean of poisons.

Add 2 to 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your own daily diet. You'll soon find that laxatives are unnecessary. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer.

MOTHER!

Clean Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

Even a sick child loves the "fruit" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mothers! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup—A.W.

Russia Opposes Genoa as Meeting Place

PARIS, Jan. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Advises from Cannes are to the effect that a second telegram received by the supreme council from Foreign Minister Chicherin last night says that the Russian government considers Genoa, Italy, not suited as the site for the forthcoming international finance and economic conference. He declares the city too remote and the communications facilities insufficient, proposing London instead.

THE BONUS AT LAST

It is good news that comes from Washington relative to the decision of the republican leaders to pass a soldiers' bonus bill after the war loan refunding bill shall have been disposed of. It is now over three years since the armistice was declared and over half a dozen bills were presented to congress providing for a bonus, some in one form, some in another, but all recognized the right of the service men to compensation over and above the pitance they received while in the government service. It will be remembered that when congress was about to enact a bonus bill calling for a cash payment of about 4,000,000 men, President Harding appealed to congress to postpone the measure, as to make such a draft on the country at that time would seriously affect the business situation and retard economic recovery.

But nobody at any time denied that the soldiers were entitled to a generous bonus. Now it is proposed that a bonus bill be passed and that the funds be taken from the interest on the war loans instead of levying a tax upon the country for that purpose. That is a good suggestion. Here the American service men have been kept waiting for what belongs to them. Just as if their claim was not one that should be promptly honored by the government.

Many of the service men have been without employment and have been sorely pressed owing to the hard times. They are, therefore, in need of relief from the government and should get a liberal bonus.

Only the other day a man who served in the Canadian army and who is an American citizen, called at The Sun office to inquire whether he is exempt from the poll tax levied by the state to pay the $100 bonus. He stated that he had received $100 from the Canadian government and that the maximum is $100. That indicates that Canada has been much more generous with her service men than has the United States.

TEMPORARY APPOINTMENTS

It would seem to be time for everybody at city hall to realize that the commission form of government is dead and that under the new charter now in force, the heads of departments are held responsible for results.

The mayor, it is true, is general supervisor, as it were, and is expected to look for results rather than to go into the details to dictate what shall or shall not be done.

The proposition coming from city hall, that temporary appointments may be made in charge of holdover superintendents, if carried out, would contravene the law and leave the city liable to pay two opposing men for the same position. The city should be protected against this possibility through an amendment by which the official officially chosen would receive no salary.

The usual course, however, is for the new official to draw his salary and then if the court decides against him, he simply gets out and there is no question as to the salary he received while in office. Should such a situation arise under the present charter the second official may not be allowed to draw any salary, pending a court decision as to the legality of the appointment.

It may well be hoped that our city shall be saved the notoriety of court proceedings arising from a stretched or unwarmed interpretation of the charter provision for temporary appointments or for any other cause.

MEXICO'S ADVANCE

The latest news from Mexico is that the national affairs and the people have really undergone a complete transformation under the regime of Obregon and his followers. Trains are no longer escorted by soldiers. Obregon travels about the land in second-class coaches and "mingles with his people," the correspondents tell us, intimately. The railways are being returned to their owners. Rebells have for the most part ceased. Even Villa, as we all know, has retreated and is no longer the almost invincible plume Mexico's chief. He is now an ardent tiller of the soil. Labor laws are being rigorously enforced, gambling for the most part has ceased in public places. The best thing of all, perhaps, in the way of advancement is the new autonomy of the individual states, despite the undesirable results it sometimes produces.

It looks in truth as if a new era had begun in the land below the Rio Grande. It might be said that this is really the third of Mexico's recent revolutions after which to use one of Obregon's own phrases, it is not necessary to liberate the nation from its liberators. If Obregon makes good, the United States government will back him up, and it will probably be Mexico's last chance, so the "new era" will bear watching. It is to be hoped that she has hit the right road at last and that she will soon make a new record for progress, law and order.

RATE CUT WILL HELP

The hearing called in Washington on Monday to discuss the Fuel-McCormick forestry bill was of considerable importance to lumber merchants everywhere. Forest products are the backbone of all industry, and the cost of getting them to the big points of consumption is always a good barometer of business conditions. If $1,600,000 acres of idle forest land in the central west and the east were put to work growing trees, high freight rates on lumber would not be the terrifying thing that they are to the American industries. The recent cut in lumber rates will be a help to a great business.

What She Would Do

A number of young women were having lessons in fencing from a professional instructor. "Now, mademoiselle," said the teacher to one girl to whom he had been trying to impart the first principles of fencing, "how would you use your foil if an opponent fouled?" After due deliberation, the girl replied: "I think I'd just tickle her with the point of it to see whether she was faking."

Ain't Women Awful?

Two women who hated each other so heartily that they always kissed when they met were talking to each other in that sweetly affectionate way in which women on such terms converse. One said, with a slight smile: "I hate to think of my 30th birthday anniversary!" "My!" said the other innocently. "What a memory you have! Did something unpleasant happen that day?"

Had Rich Customer

The street peddler was selling neckties by the street light while his partner watched by the sign of a bluebird. He had to work fast. "This here scarf," he shouted, "makes a gent look dressable and you'd pay three bucks for it at any haberdashery. I bring these over from Paris myself. The king of Paris wore one exactly like this at the grand ball given at the Hotel de Balcony." A customer stepped up and bought one. "Ah," said the peddler, "Mr. Pierpont Morgan takes this one."

Cigars vs. Prescriptions

An enterprising tradesman sent a doctor a box of cigars which had not been ordered, with a bill for $5. The accompanying letter stated that "I have ventured to send these on my initiative, being convinced that you will appreciate their exquisite flavor." In due course, the doctor replied: "You have not asked me for a consultation, but I venture to send you three prescriptions, being convinced you will derive therefrom as much benefit as I shall derive from your cigars. As my charge for a prescription is $2, this makes us even."

Texan Verse

What holds the year that lies before?

What will the future hold for me?

What waits upon the distant shore?

We sense but cannot see?

What holds the tide of mighty times?

When every foot of ground is new?

What tells the sound of New Year chimes?

What tells the skein of fate?

The year is like a broad highway

Far toward the future gone.

Where some will linger on to play

And some press on and on.

We hold the secret of our fate.

The path our feet have trod

Will lead us to the future gate

Of from the face of God.

Within our souls the power is given

To rise above defeat.

To climb the steep ascent of heaven

Where stands his mercy seat.

What holds the year that lies before?

What will the future hold for me?

Defeat or crown on yonder shore?

Thy soul can answer that for me.

—Leonard Withington in Port Worth Record.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Recently I was speaking with a friend of mine who is well known in the fishing world.

We were discussing different places in which fish were raised and he informed me he knew of a place where they were raising fish in a cranberry meadow. He said that last spring the state leased through its fish and game commission, about 50 acres of cranberry meadow in the close of the Civil war, were started as cranberry meadows. Already fish culture has begun there, he claimed, and among the species put in are pout, perch and sunfish. He said that it was planned to bring several species of fish from the Sutton ponds. Among these are to be the bluegill, catfish and the carp.

Times may be hard and the unemployment may be claiming many victims, but one can never judge by the throngs that were gathered outside moving picture houses shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Outside one popular theatre a line that extended for a block along the sidewalk stood for nearly half an hour, waiting for the opening of the day's performance. I wonder if the removal of the "tax" on, or if you want to call it, the war tax, has something to do with this rush of patronage.

Practically the entire legal fraternity of Lowell is watching the daily developments in the Bellotti trial at Boston. The district attorney of Suffolk county, whose removal the attorney general seeks, evidently has many friends among the lawyers of this city.

Several evenings morning when attorneys are congregated at their rendezvous at the district court are heard remarks and comments about the case.

Another trial that is being followed closely by many persons in this city is that of Charles W. Reed, of Melrose, charged to have killed Patrolman J. A. Preston in Wakefield last April. The fact there is a Lowell man on the jury and that several townsmen were called from this city adds interest to the case from a Lowell viewpoint.

I am told the Canadian government has decided to copy the American flag in a short time. The Canadian flag

POLITICAL "COME BACK"

French Speaking Canada Recaptures its Former Position in Dominion Affairs

MONTREAL, Jan. 10.—(By the Associated Press) — French-speaking Canada has, with the accession of the new King ministry, recaptured its former position in Dominion affairs, after four years of "isolation."

MacKenzie King is at present at the helm and a solid Liberal group is returned to the recent general election, his full quota of members in the federal ministry. It is expected to play an important part in matters of government as it did during the administration of the great French-Canadian, Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The "isolation" of Quebec, politically speaking, was brought about in 1917, and was due to differences of opinion on the question of conscription for military service. The French-speaking Canadians opposed conscription when their English-speaking compatriots believed their measure necessary.

The group of 55 Liberals sent to the federal parliament by Quebec in the recent general election comprised more than half of the following of Premier King, who has 117 supporters in the house of commons. Complaints already have been heard that Quebec's influence in governmental affairs is likely to be greater than her population warrants. Approximately one-quarter of the population of Canada is in Quebec.

Among the "strong men" representing French Canada in the new ministry is Sir Louis Gouin, who was premier of Quebec for 15 years, and has won the reputation of an able and wise administrator.

COLLEGE GIRL SHOTS HERSELF ACCIDENTALLY

CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 10.—Miss Mary Trask, of California, 20 years old, a senior at Radcliffe college, was at the Cambridge hospital last night as the result of an accidental shooting at the college.

According to the college authorities, Miss Trask was alone in her room examining a revolver which she recently purchased. A safety device was properly set, the weapon was held against the temple and the bullet entered the head.

At the hospital yesterday the bullet was removed and last night hospital physicians expressed the belief that Miss Trask would recover.

The shooting of the college girl was not reported to the police and every effort was made to keep it quiet, but the news leaked out late yesterday.

Although Miss Trask comes from California, she registered this year from the home of her aunt in Boston.

Japan's principal exports are raw silk, cotton, tea and silk.

ASKED TO SUPPORT PATENT RELIEF BILL

Members of congress from Massachusetts have been asked by the executive committee of the Massachusetts state chamber of commerce to give their support to the patent relief bill now pending in congress and which will now be introduced in the senate.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

This Way Up

There was Alexander, once,
Who was always doing stunts
Which the pessimists declared he couldn't do;
But he waved them all aside
And he wouldn't be denied
And he dreamed a lot of dreams and made 'em true;
In his brain ambition swirled
And he said, "I want the world,
I would rule the map and all the towns that dot it!"
Well, he wanted it enough
And he had the proper stuff,
So he got it!

Chris Columbus had a scheme
Which they called a silly dream,
For he thought that he could prove the world was round.
And although the wise ones laughed,
Chris embarked upon his craft
And he sailed across the ocean, westward bound;
Others may have had the hunch
But they lacked the vim and punch
Which taught Chris to grab his chance while he could spot it,
For he wanted it enough.
And he had the proper stuff,
So he got it!

That's the secret, that's the dope
For the man who tries to cope
With the busy world about him, he can gain
Almost anything he wants
If the Will-to-Get-It haunts
Every fibre of his body and his brain;
If you know what you desire
And you simply never tire
Of the grinding and the toil as you beset it,
If you want it bad enough,
And you have the proper stuff
You can get it!

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

King Alexander and Princess Marie of Rumania to Marry

BELGRADE, Jan. 10.—The engagement of King Alexander to the Princess Marie, second daughter of King Ferdinand and Queen Marie of Rumania, was announced today.

Princess Marie is 22 years of age. She was reported engaged to Alexander, who was then prince regent of Jugoslavia, in September, 1920. King Alexander, who is the second son of the late King Peter of Serbia, is in his 31st year. He is visiting King Ferdinand and Queen Marie of Rumania at their chateau at Sinaia.

The principal exports are raw silk, cotton, tea and silk.

WINS $13,466 VERDICT

Woman Sent Home From Hospital in Undertaker's Wagon Sued Doctor

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 10.—A verdict for $13,466 was awarded Mrs. Mary L. Morrell of this city yesterday by a jury who heard her $25,000 suit against Dr. Alphonsus J. Lalonde, in which she claimed damages following a stomach operation performed in the defendant's private hospital.

Mrs. Morrell charged that a carelessly performed operation resulted in great suffering, that Dr. Lalonde told her she had but two days to live thereafter and that when she wanted to go home to die she was sent there in an undertaker's wagon instead of an ambulance.

TUFTS TO FIGHT DISBARMENT

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—That Nathan A. Tufts removed from the office of district attorney of Middlesex county, will contest the disbarment proceedings brought against him by the Middlesex County Bar association was indicated yesterday when Tufts' attorney, Melvin M. Johnson, filed an appearance in superior court, East Cambridge.

No answer to the charges has been filed by Mr. Tufts. The answer must be filed this month.

GIRLS' CITY CLUB

New military and dressmaking classes will begin at the Girls' City club, at 115 this evening. These classes are given by teachers from the Lowell Vocational school. Those desiring to take either course should register at the club before this evening's session begins. A Red Cross course in home nursing will begin on this week or 10 days at the club. Registration is now open for this course. The classes will be conducted on Tuesday and Friday evenings by a registered Red Cross nurse.

DODGED DRAFT, ARE REFUSED CITIZENSHIP

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Federal Judge Morton yesterday denied the privileges of American citizenship to 37 men because they were shown in the court that every one of them had claimed deferred classification in the draft during the world war on the ground that they were aliens.

In the list were Greeks, Swedes, Russians, Irish, Norwegians, Turks and Armenians, and all had appeared in the United States district court for their final papers prior to the draft law being passed by congress. In consequence of their exemption claim, the 37 were put in class 6 and thus escaped military service.

Col. J. B. Dodge Released by Bolsheviks

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Col. John Bigelow Dodge, who was arrested by Bolshevik authorities at Batum on Dec. 9, as an alleged secret British agent, has been released and is awaiting passage from Batum to Constantinople, according to a despatch to the Times. It was officially explained from Moscow that his arrest was an error. (Col. Dodge is a stepson of Lionel George Guest, fourth son of Lord Wimborne, and a grandson of the late John Bigelow, American man of letters and minister to France.)

Would Make Theft of Autos Perilous

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The annual standards meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers today had before it recommendations for a uniform system for numbering engines which would go far toward making the theft of cars perilous. The number plate would be an integral part of the engine, and so slumped that it would be next to impossible to eradicate the original number and substitute another.

Marquis Okuma Died Early Today

TOKIO, Jan. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Marquis Okuma, who died early today, has been given posthumous honors by Emperor Yoshihito. He is given court rank, junior grade, and is decorated with the Grand Cordon of the Chrysanthemum, with collar, in recognition of his services for the state.

Three Killed and Dozen Wounded in Clash

LONDON, Jan. 10.—In a bloody fight between fascists and communists at Bergamo, near Garmara, Italy, three persons were killed and a dozen badly wounded, says a Times Milan despatch. Carbineers who intervened were fired upon by the riflemen of both factions. Wholesale arrests followed.

Two Shot in Belfast—Saloon Raided

BELFAST, Jan. 10.—Four men raided a saloon last night, seriously injuring a tenant. One of the raiders was captured. Two bartenders employed in another saloon were seriously shot while walking on the street.

CHELSEA STORE MANAGER SHOT BY GUNMEN

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Alexander D. Corbett, 44 years old, manager of the John T. Connor store at 750 Broadway, Chelsea, was shot down in the doorway of his home 69 Border street, East Boston, by one of two gunmen shortly after 9 last night, but managed to hold onto the money bag containing the day's receipts, $250. The store manager was picking his way through a dark hallway leading to game, staggered to his feet and was assisted to his apartment by neighbors. A telephone call to the East Boston police station brought several officers to the house. The wounded man was sent to the East Boston roller station, where, on examination by Dr. George B. Allen, it was found that the bullet had entered the back and plowed through the right shoulder. Corbett was held at the hospital.

Meanwhile, Lieut. Martin King threw a cordon of police around the lower end of the island and shortly after 11 o'clock four suspects had been captured. All were taken to the hospital, where two were partially identified by Corbett.

While robbery is believed to have been the motive, the police also accept the possibility that a desire for revenge may have figured in the shooting.

EXPECT BRITISH CABINET TO APPROVE PACT

CANNES, France, Jan. 10. (By the Associated Press).—Notification of endorsement by the British cabinet of the written pledge binding Great Britain immediately to aid France to the full extent of her military and naval resources in case of aggression by Germany, is expected from London by tonight. The pact, agreed upon by Premier Briand and Lloyd George, was telegraphed to the British cabinet last night.

The council planned to recess today until 3 p. m., while a sub-committee engaged in the delicate task of framing an invitation to the forthcoming international financial and economic conference to a country which has already formally accepted. This situation arose from the action of the Russian soviet government which in its eagerness to be represented at the Genoa meeting sent a regular acceptance to the council's tentative query if an invitation would be acceptable under certain conditions.

Meanwhile the French delegation is awaiting results of consultation in Paris regarding settlement of the German reparations question.

ON THE PROSPERITY TRAIL

Another Lowell contracting concern is showing evidence of prosperity with the coming of the New Year.—The R. E. Runnels Construction Co. Although only established in this city about a year, the company reports several contracts on the 1922 order books, and the very first to be got under way in the reconstruction work on the Appleton National bank building, which is to be made into an up-to-date structure with 83 separate offices. The Runnels concern is strictly Lowell in every respect with offices in the Hildreth building.

MRS. GREEN WEAK AND FRAIL

Tells How Vinol Built Her Up and Increased Her Weight

MRS. S. V. GREEN

READ HER LETTER

EMPORIA, Kansas.—"Bronchitis left me in a weak, run-down condition so I was too weak and frail to do my work. I took all kinds of cough syrups and tonics but did not seem to gain. One day I read about Vinol and tried it. I commenced to improve. It gave me a good appetite, it built up my wasted tissues. I gained in weight and it strengthened and toned me up generally."—Mrs. S. V. Green, 2 South State street, Emporia, Kansas.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains the curative tissue building elements of fresh cod's livers (without oil), together with the blood making and strength creating properties of Iron and Beef Teptones which makes Vinol without a peer for overcoming frail, weak, run-down condition. $1.00 per bottle, guaranteed.—Adv.

Leaves Bequest for Needy Children His Nerves Were

All of a Tremble

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—The creation of a trust fund for needy women and children, to be established from the residue of an estate valued at $750,000 is provided for in the will of James W. Dunphy, philanthropist and former newspaper publisher. Mr. Dunphy was the principal benefactor of the Home for Destitute Catholic Children. Numerous other personal and charitable bequests amounting to several thousand of dollars, were contained in his will.

Volcano Ometepe in Active Eruption

SAN JUAN DEL SUR, Nicaragua, Jan. 10.—The volcano Ometepe, on the island of Ometepe, eight miles from the western shore of Lake Nicaragua, is in active eruption. Many thousands of cecan plants have been destroyed, large areas of grazing lands are covered with ashes and many cattle are dead. The inhabitants of the adjacent villages are fleeing to zones of safety. Considerable lava is flowing down the 5108-foot cone, but has as yet done no material damage. The eruption is the worst since 1885.

Fire Wrecks Historic Louisville Building

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 10.—Fire early today partially destroyed one of Louisville's historic buildings, the old Courier-Journal office building, Fourth and Liberty streets, for almost a half century the home of the Courier-Journal. The loss was estimated at $300,000. Ten years ago the newspaper was moved to another location and the old one converted into an office building.

reception and exhibition in Lincoln hall last evening. Amidst the applause of several hundred persons the youthful pupils of Mr. Stanton gave a wonderful exhibition of dancing as portrayed by various characters, each dancer being beautifully attired in appropriate costume. The program was topped off by six class dances, they being a waltz, a fox trot, free arm movement, technical exercises, "Pompallour Gavotte," skirt dance, and rag dance, in which 30 girl pupils took part. Following the girls' dance each little girl gave an individual performance in a manner that reflected unusual credit on both dancer and teacher. After the exhibition Mr. Stanton was warmly congratulated over the success of the affair and for the splendid manner his pupils performed. At the piano, Miss Marion Ryan accompanied the dancers with excellent precision. Shortly before 10 o'clock the program was completed and the general dancing started lasting until midnight.

The program was as follows: Waltz, fox trot, free arm movements, classic, technical exercises, pompallour gavotte, group; skirt dancing, group; rag dance, esthetic, Mahel Delan; the rainbow, classic, Mary Sullivan; Viollette, classic, Lillian Langston; The Dark, interpretive, Mary Rupa; Pompallour, esthetic, Margaret Joyce; Serenade, interpretive, Agnes Cronan; Sleepy Time, interpretive, Ursula Homan; Jack Tars, national, group; Pe-

N. Y. GANG ATTACKS SWAMPSCOTT MAN

After fevers the blood is generally left in a thin, weak state and the recovery of health and strength is impossible until the normal condition of the blood is restored. This is especially true after attacks of rheumatic fever because in no other disease does the blood become thin with such rapidity. The anemia, or bloodlessness, that follows rheumatic fever is well known to physicians.

It is possible, by correct diet and the use of the right tonic medicine to build up the blood in such cases so that recovery will be rapid and permanent. In all rheumatic conditions, unless the blood is attended to there is always danger of relapse. That is the reason so many people have rheumatism year after year.

Mr. W. A. Reynolds, a carpenter, of No. 5 Bennett street, Augusta, Me., had four attacks of rheumatic fever. He had medical treatment but the disease left his system in a serious condition. "I was extremely nervous and run down," he says, "and whenever I would overdo I would be all of a tremble. Night after night I would lie in bed without sleep. My work makes me climb in high places and I was so nervous and dizzy that I would be glad when it was time to quit."

"One day I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the paper and was led to try them. Before I had used them a week I felt better. My work and sleep better and my appetite was keener. I arose in the morning refreshed by good night's sleep. I used five boxes in all and they completely restored the strength of my body and the steadiness of my nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a reliable tonic and I am glad to have my statement published for the benefit of others."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 60 cents per box. Write for the free booklet on nervous disorders.—Adv.

CHERRY & WEBB

WILL PAY UNION WAGES

Local Contractors Say Wages

of Their Men Will Not Be Lowered

Ninety cents an hour for carpenters. Seventy-five cents an hour for painters.

Union rates in every building laborer's line of work for the next twelve months.

C. W. Johnson & Son, contractors and builders, issued the following statement this morning:

"We are not going to lower the wages of our workmen. We intend to maintain regular union rates, during the coming year. That is as far as we can go now. We believe the present wages received by carpenters, painters and affiliated building trade workmen are as low as they ought to be considering the cost of living.

"We are absolutely opposed to chopping down the wages of good workmen, and we shall stand back of them and hold to the union schedules now in effect.

Mr. Johnson declared today that he is opposed to a certain movement that hopes to reduce the present wages of Lowell building laborers. He says he can get better work done by paying straight union wages, following union hours and securing at the same time competent men who are not content with their work without being under any restraining influences or shadows of lower wages.

The Johnson concern has just begun the erection of two large stores and two tenement houses in the valuable area on the corner of Lowell and O streets. Every man from carpenter to hod-carrier at work today was laboring under union wage scales and hours. Mr. Johnson, inspecting the preliminary work, said he was going to get the work performed cheaply if not cheaper than he could get the same work done under lower wage conditions.

Every man appeared to be satisfied with the Johnson arrangement and the construction of the cellar and first floors was going along smoothly. The new stores are to be a valuable addition to the D street neighborhood which needs them, Mr. Johnson says. The construction is to be modern in every way, with hardwood floors, best of toilet arrangements and light fixtures.

Another house to cost $7000 is to be erected by the Johnson firm right away in East Chelmsford, and a five-room bungalow also. Mr. Johnson promises steady work for his workmen for several months to come, and expects to make a full year of it. Two houses have just been completed at a total cost of $14,000 on Rogers street and 110½, and the work and Contractor Johnson says he saved hundreds of dollars on the two jobs and can prove it to any man wanting to see the houses.

Mr. Johnson declares that the building industry is in for a good year. In his 33 years of handling real estate in Lowell, he says the outlook was never better, even at the wage scales prevailing in building laborers' quarters. He said he could not approve of any concerted attempts to cut down wages and expect any real results from workmen, obliged to lower their present scale of living.

Robert A. Warner of the R. A. Warner Co., general contractor, told the Sun reporter that he was in favor of straight union wages for every man in his employ for the remainder of the year, and longer if necessary. He said he was not anxious to engage in a campaign that would tend to lower wages in any branch of the industry and feels that the conditions at the present time do warrant any slash in union rates.

Lumber is reported higher in many lines this week and contractors are wondering if it is going up any more. Building contractors declare that the lumber market is swinging on a high tide of prices that ought to come down before much headway can be made in the industrial game. Mr. Johnson is buying only on 30-day delivery for the present.

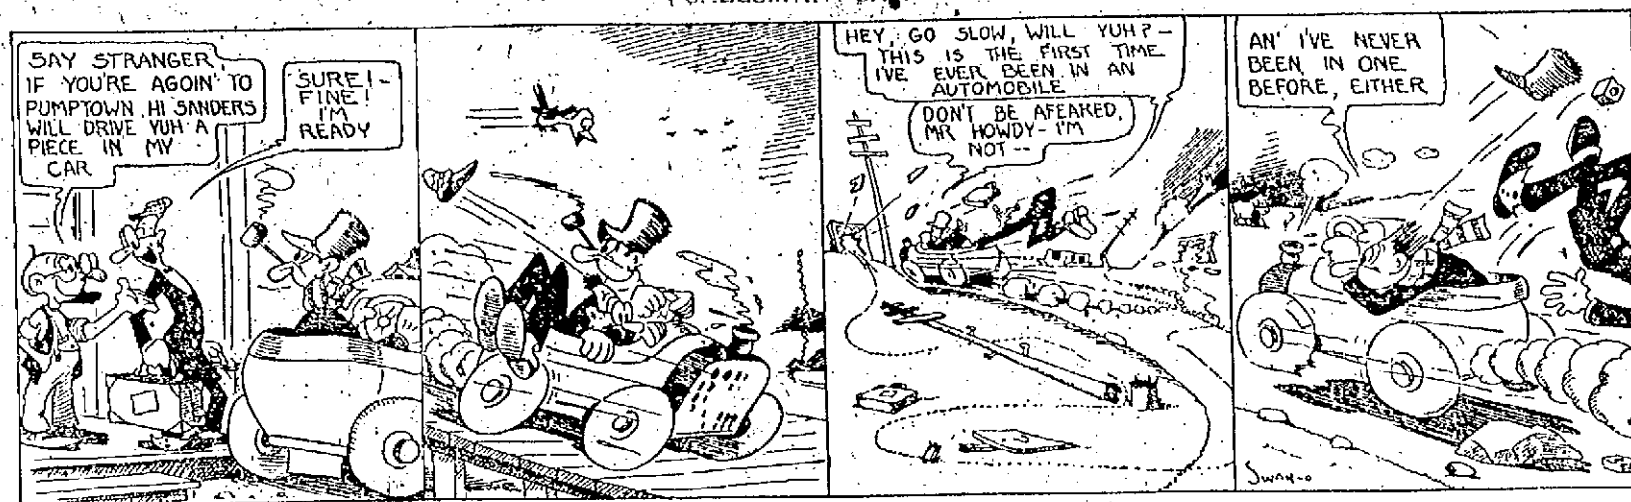

HEALTH BOARD MEMBERS

INSPECT HOSPITAL

The three members of the board of health made a survey of conditions at the isolation hospital yesterday afternoon, spending nearly two hours at the plant and being taken over it very thoroughly by Dr. Forster II, Smith, superintendent.

It is believed that some action on the election of a superintendent will come up at the meeting of the board tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. No comment upon the management of the hospital was made today by any board member.

nothing more until he recovered consciousness some time later. He was then on another road, he did not know just where, according to his statement as given to the witness.

Patrolman Wolley said Loud told him his watch, pocketbook containing $50 and eyeglasses were missing. Loud said he walked in a dazed condition until he found a street car track and then followed it to his home.

The witness told of the arrest of Loud later in the night. At that time Loud had gone to bed. The officer waited until he heard street clothes. The witness described articles of clothing which he obtained in the course of two other visits to the Loud house that night.

He said he also took away a little cardboard box containing seven cartridges. He thought the box was in a bureau drawer in Loud's room but he was not sure of it.

George E. Shields and Alfred L. Studley, both neighbors of Loud, said he came slouching up the street, his hands in his pockets, his head down, and bleeding. When asked under cross-examination whether they had any attempt by Loud to conceal himself, the witnesses replied in the negative.

The government contends that Loud, surprised with a woman in a stalled automobile, fired when the officer threatened to prevent them on a statutory charge. Loud told his wife when he got home that night he had been held up, beaten and robbed of his automobile. He has denied that any woman was with him.

Before court convened today, counsel submitted in chambers briefs on the question of the admissibility of a memorandum found in Preston's pocket, containing the names of Loud and one "Alice Bennett" with a notation of a statutory offense.

"The theatre men say that possibly the theatres will close down on Sunday altogether and that perhaps the daily course left inasmuch as the mayor shows no inclination to meet with them in conference.

"We do not know what the mayor really wants us to do," said Mr. Torrance. "All the information we have received has come through the news papers, and not one word directly from him. We might be willing to co-operate on a fair basis if we knew just what he had in mind."

While speaking on the theatre question this morning, Mayor Brown gave any attempt by Loud to conceal himself, the witnesses replied in the negative.

to Canada. Such is the belief of the Lynn authorities, who through Inspector Donahue of that city, revealed startling information to the local officials this morning. However, a comb of the city executed by Lieut. Martin Maher and the Lynn officer, failed to disclose any trace of the alleged bank thief.

Every hotel and lodging house of consequence was searched. It was stated, but the registers revealed no such person there and the clerks told the police no one answering the description given them had recently entered there. The Lynn police were informed, through a traveling salesman from Lynn, that Gilmore, with whom he had been talking in this city Wednesday, according to his admission, was stopping at a hotel in Middlesex street. The salesman, however, at the time did not know of the bank larceny and that Gilmore had been connected with it.

The local authorities were furnished with a list of the stocks and bonds alleged to have been stolen from the bank by Gilmore and have canvassed every bank in Lowell and checked up serial numbers but without success of finding any of the stolen valuables. It was a suspicion of the Lynn authorities that the young man had probably converted some of the liberty bonds into cash in this city.

At the local police headquarters it was stated this noon that last week Lieut. Maher arrested a youth whom he thought resembled the man wanted in Lynn, but later found out he had no connection with the theft. This morning it was learned through a source other than the police, the inspectors found on the register of the hotel where the Lynn police learned Gilmore was stopping Wednesday, a name given as "Gilmarlin," which the Lynn inspectors stated was written in a handwriting very similar to that of the youth wanted. That person, according to the hotel attaches, left the hotel the latter part of last week.

The visiting officer returned to Lynn this afternoon but the local authorities are continuing a rigid search.

WILL OPEN LABOR

BUREAU MONDAY

The new bureau of registration for unemployed labor will open for business next Monday morning in the office in city hall now occupied by the superintendent of maps and the smoke inspector. These two officers will be obliged to look elsewhere for quarters.

In explaining his plans for the conduct of the bureau, Registrar Cornelius J. Cronin said today that he would require the services of a clerk and a stenographer to start with, but undoubtedly will need a larger staff once underway.

Mr. Cronin will not confine himself to local industries in his attempts to find employment for the men who may come to him, but already is in touch with a number of outside plants he did business with during his service as an unemployment man during war times.

Every applicant for a job will be given a thorough examination. Mr. Cronin states with a record taken of his qualifications for all lines of work. He hopes to work in close co-operation with the mayor's committee on unemployment as well as with all other employing agencies in the city.

Further, the registrar went to Boston today to get in touch with any similar work being carried on by the federal government in that city.

Mayor Brown has outlined a plan whereby all handicapped men, not fitted through some physical disability for all kinds of work, and who are in need of aid until employment is obtained, shall be cared for out of a charity fund, to be raised in some manner and disbursed by Rev. James E. Kennedy, treasurer of the unemployment committee. The mayor said today that he hopes to see the plan grow to large proportions and that the unemployed of the city shall be cared for in every way possible.

FEATHERS FRAME THE FACE

By MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(The) hat is at the upper side of the hat but this Rehnold model does something quite original and wears its feathers under the brim, curling so that it circles the face of the wearer. Feathers are softening things, they're kind to any type of face and that perhaps accounts for their popularity. The hat shown is of brown velvet. A high band circles the full crown and the narrow brim rolls up, away from the face at the front, coming to a point.

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Read This Letter from Mrs. W. S. Hughes

Greenville, Del.—"I was under the impression that my eldest daughter had some internal trouble as ever since the first time her sickness appeared she had to go to bed and even had to quit school once for a week. I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound myself so I gave it to her and she has recovered and you can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish, as I cannot say too much about what your medicine has done for me and for my daughter."—Mrs. W. S. HUGHES, Greenville, Delaware.

Mothers and oftentimes grandmothers have taken and have learned the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So they recommend the medicine to others.

The best test of any medicine is what it has done for others. For nearly fifty years we have published letters from mothers, daughters, and women, young and old, recommending the Vegetable Compound. They know what it did for them and are glad to tell others. In your own neighborhood are women who know of its great value.

Mothers—daughters, why not try it?

BODDY ADMITS DOUBLE KILLING

Negro Captured at Philadelphia Tells How and Why He Killed Detectives

Feared Being "Kicked Around" in Police Station

—To Be Brought to N. Y.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—New York detectives were expected to arrive here today with a requisition for Luther Boddy, the negro captured yesterday after breaking through a net of policemen, detectives and sheriff's and state troopers spread through three states. Word was received from Albany that Gov. Miller had signed the requisition papers, and that detectives were on the way to this city with them.

Boddy, having in New York on charges of having shot and killed two detectives, was said to have admitted the shooting in a signed statement.

"This happened Thursday night, January 6, about 8 o'clock," he is quoted by the police as saying. "It was done in the public school at 135th street and Lefferts avenue. I am through with my parole. I am not on parole contrary to newspaper reports but I want to see the parole officer on some other business and while I was there talking to him, two detectives came in."

"Well, they waited until I got through talking and stood in the hall until I came out and they started talking to me and asking what I knew concerning the Rhodes shooting. So I told them I didn't know anything about it, and they said 'How did this rumor get out that you done this shooting?' I told them rumors will get out. I am across the street everyday in the bookshop parlor. If you wanted me why didn't you come after me before?"

"So then they said: 'We are not going to kick you up, we just want to take you over to the station house and find out what you know about this.' Of course in New York city, what they mean by taking you to the station house they take you over there and kick you around for two or three hours and then they let you go. How did this rumor get out that you done this shooting? I told them rumors will get out. I am across the street everyday in the bookshop parlor. If you wanted me why didn't you come after me before?"

NO RUST GROWING ON JAP ARMS

While the world talks of disarmament the Japanese army keeps on with its field maneuvers. Above, Crown Prince Hirohito, regent of Japan, and members of his staff watch the latest operations of the army near Tokio.

Chelsea Payroll Robbers Sentenced

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—Three men who with two others held up bank messengers in Chelsea last November and escaped with the $28,444 payroll of the Walton Shoe Co., were sentenced to long terms in jail today. Jim Lana and John Dubok of Scranton, Pa., were given sentences of 18 to 25 years each in state prison. John Pietkewicz, of Detroit, Mich., 18 years old, was sentenced to five years and one month in Concord reformatory. The other men have not been apprehended. Virtually all the money has been recovered. During the hearing, in the superior court where the men had pleaded guilty, it was stated that Lana and Dubok were wanted in Scranton for a $2000 holdup, which took place there on Oct. 29. Pietkewicz was a dupe of the other men, a police inspector testified. His mother came from Detroit and told the court her son was a choir boy and a clergyman from that city also said a good word for him.

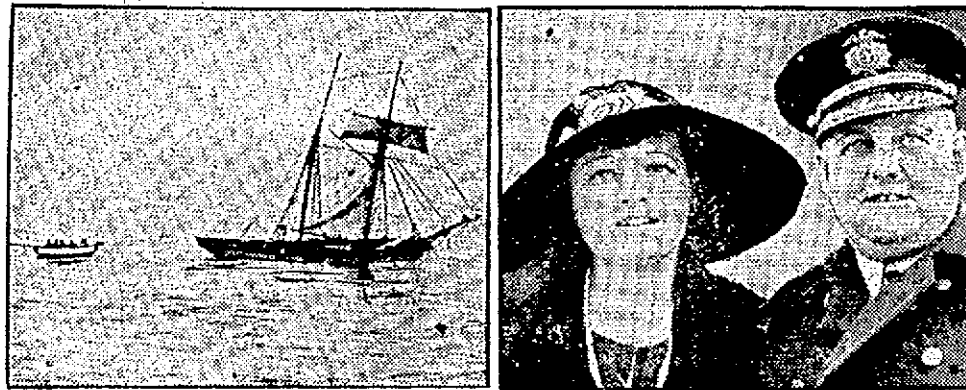

Few Buildings to Remain at Devens

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—Of the 4000 buildings at Camp Devens only enough to shelter 10,000 men, together with the base hospital and the theatre are to be retained, according to orders from Washington, received at First Army corps headquarters here today. In time of war or other emergency, it was indicated, Camp Devens would be used for mobilization of one division.

CAPTAIN RANDALL'S HEROISM

BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DESPATCHES

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The New York Zoological society will reveal at its annuual meeting tomorrow night, the secret elusiveness of mimes domestica, commonly known as the house fly. Motion pictures will demonstrate that the eyes of a fly have a compound structure and that when a swatter approaches it sees not one assassin, but 250.

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—A petition for the disarmament of W. Edwin Ulmer, an attorney who has figured prominently in recent litigation over the business of the Wabash House, Conservatories and the Henry Woods Sons Co., paint manufacturers, was presented to Judge Morton in the federal court today on behalf of Robert O. Harris, United States attorney.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Art Resner of Paris, Ill., is the leading amateur trap shooter of North America for 1921 and Rush Ragoos is the leading professional, according to averages announced today by the American Trap Shooting association.

PARIS, Aug. 9.—Italian circles at Cannes, where a Franco-British pact against possible future German aggression is being discussed, are favorable to the plan of including Italy with Great Britain in the guarantee to be given France, says a Havas dispatch from Cannes today.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 9.—A total valuation of the state as made by local boards of assessors, is $55,193,592, the state board of assessors announced in their annual report today. This was an increase of $18,966,980 over the previous year. The valuation of the 20 cities is $267,941,282, the increase being $12,015,289, or more than 50 per cent of the state gain.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Frank J. F. Thiel, of Fort Wayne, Ind., was nominated today by President Harding to be assistant treasurer of the United States.

ORPHANS MOURN DEATH OF DUNPHY

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—Several hundred orphans, inmates of the Home for Destitute Catholic Children, were naming many mourners today at the solemn mass of requiem for James W. Dunphy, philanthropist and former newspaper publisher in the Church of the Immaculate Conception. The orphans, boys and girls, were given a home largely through the interest of Mr. Dunphy.

Women now possess full suffrage rights in 21 countries.

TO BUY CAPE COD CANAL CHANGE THEIR MINDS AND WILL TAKE LEGACY

Secretaries Weeks, Denby and Hoover Urge Purchase by Federal Government

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Secretaries Weeks, Denby and Hoover, appearing today before the house committee, urged purchase by the federal government of the Cape Cod canal. The property, the committee was informed, can be obtained for $11,500,000 the government assuming $6,000,000 in five per cent bonds maturing in 1939 and paying $5,500,000 in cash.

The canal, which is eight miles in length, cuts the voyage between the two harbors and New York 65 miles and eliminates Secretary Weeks said, the "graveyard" for vessels off Cape Cod.

More ships pass through the canal, according to Mr. Weeks, than through any similar waterway in the world, and if it is taken over by the government it should be widened and deepened, he said, to accommodate larger ships.

Under condemnation proceedings several years ago, a jury fixed $18,731,000 as a proper price for the government to pay for the canal property, but the award was thrown out by a higher court and now negotiations for the property were instituted, Secretaries Weeks, Denby and Hoover, as a commission, investigated the feasibility of government purchases.

MIDDLEBORO, Jan. 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Charles Garland, who 14 months ago, refused one million dollars from the estate of his father, the late James A. Garland of Boston on the ground that it would be inconsistent with his views regarding property, today confirmed a report that he had had a change of mind and that he would accept the legacy.

Hamilton Garland, his younger brother, has also reconsidered his determination to reject the legacy and accept it, according to James Garland, the oldest of the three brothers. Charles Garland and his wife are living on a farm in North Carver, seven miles from this place. When he was asked for a statement of the reason for his change in attitude, he said he still thought the property system against which he revolted a year ago, was wrong, but he had come to the conclusion that he ought not to continue to refuse the money and allow it to lie idle. He believed it should be put in circulation.

"I will take the money," he said. "I will not use it for furthering any socialistic idea or for the extension of my farm work. I will use it for my own special purposes, but I do not wish to end at present what those are. I shall live on the old farm here for some time yet, however."

REV. M. J. BYRNE DEAD Emerson and Loos Put Music Farce Twist Into Movie

Was Atlanta Prison Chaplain
—Formerly With Brothers
in "Eight Bells"

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Rev. Michael J. Byrne, 61, chaplain, at the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, and, before he entered the priesthood, of national fame as the head of "Byrne Brothers' Eight Bells," a pantomime comedy that was performed continuously for 25 years, died at the Carney hospital yesterday morning, following an operation.

He was brought here by his son, James J. Byrne, of Cambridge, two weeks ago, in order that he might be placed under the care of Dr. Hottel, a personal friend.

Rev. Fr. Byrne had an unusual career. He was born in Norwalk, Conn., Nov. 22, 1867, the son of Joseph and Mary Byrne. He attended the public schools until he was about 14, when he matriculated at St. Paul's preparatory school at Pittsburg. He remained there two years, with the object in mind of studying for the priesthood. His parents, however, had other plans for him and he returned to his home.

At the age of 25 he joined his brothers, Matthew, John, James and Andrew, in Fred Lewis' circus. Later the brothers joined Thatchers, Edmundo and West's Minstrels. John wrote "Eight Bells" and after its production in Norwalk, all remained with it during the entire course of its successful run.

Michael J. Byrne was business manager of the show until he left it to enter St. Francis Seminary at Loreto, Pa. He finished his studies four years later, was ordained by Bishop Garvey at Albany, Pa., June 12, 1913 and went to Savannah, where he did parish work. Four years later he was appointed chaplain of the penitentiary and remained there until his fatal illness. At the age of 23 he married Mrs. Mary Scully of Norwalk. They had five children, three of whom survive. They are, besides James Byrne, St. John E. Byrne and Lieut. Mary E. Byrne, American, Nursing Corps, now at Fort Banks. He is also survived by three brothers, John, James and Andrew, and one sister, Mrs. William J. Butler of Norwalk.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at St. Patrick's church, Norwalk, at 10 a. m.

Chief native religions of Japan are Shintoism and Buddhism.

HE DARKENED HIS GRAY HAIR

TELLS HOW HE DID IT

Mr. J. A. McCrea, a well known resident of California, was called Daddy and Grandpa on account of his white hair, and who darkened it with a home-made mixture, recently made the following statement:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of barbo Compound and 4 ounces of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—Adv.

THE CABINET OF THE KINGDOM OF BUNKONIA DOWNS LIQUOR AND RAISES TAXES. THAT IS "RED HOT ROMANCE" IN WHICH MAY COLLINS IS THE HEROINE.

By JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—John Emerson and Anita Loos, who have been responsible for many clever screen comedies, are now picture producers. Their first production is "Red Hot Romance" and is a fair sample of their ingenuity.

This picture is the old-fashioned musical farce adapted to the screen. Stories of musical farces are usually negligible. Music is their essential ingredient. Therefore, it is unlikely that there will be a vogue of musical farce adaptations to the screen.

The virtue of this picture is that it is the first one of its kind. New use has been made of familiar material—the songbook's breeches cut down from dad's.

A lounge lizard inherits a fifth avenue mansion and an income of $50 a week for the first year. His black servant is his major domo. The major domo books various household articles to furnish his master with funds.

An ivory elephant is sold for funds to buy the hero's sweetheart's archery. When he calls with the money, his rival appears with the elephant. The girl ignores the flowers. The elephant was just what she wanted. That is a typical Emerson-Loos twist.

At the end of the first year the attorney arrives to read the will. The chair is all that is left in the house. That is sold to pay for the taxi that brought the attorney, the help expecting to enjoy the fortune immediately.

The will provides that the son shall be given an income of $25 a week and a job as insurance collector. If, upon his death, he is left in loss in the estate, he is to be paid $100,000.

During year he is to come into the fortune. The girl goes to Santo Grafto with her father, the new United States consul to the Kingdom of Bunkonia. The hero follows. Bunkonia has never heard of insurance. They think that by paying a premium they will get thousands of dollars—without dying for it.

The future looks rosy until the villain instigates a revolution. All of the cabinet members had stopped of a poultice or the old-fashioned plaster. Simply Rub It In. Clean, soothing, easy to apply. Its beneficial qualities have made Minard's Liniment the favorite in thousands of homes for more than 65 years.

dovening liquor and raising taxes long enough to take out $50,000 policies. Revolutionists seek to kill them. The revolutionists finally get the best of everything but the major domo. He leads the marines, all his color, to the rescue. That's real music farce stuff.

One interesting thing about "Red Hot Romance" is a new combination of actors. Basil Sydney, the English actor, is the hero. He resists unusually well. May Collins is the heroine. Frank Taylor, Spitz, Edwards, Olive Valente, Carl Stockdale, Roy Atwell and Henry Warwick are others not often seen together in pictures.

THE NEXT ABISS FILM The picture just completed by George Arliss is "The Ruling Passion." It is a comedy about a philanthropist who resumes business after making a fortune and retiring. The story brings him health and contentment. Which goes to prove that most of us find greater contentment in our daily tasks than we realize until we cease doing them.

ON LOCATION Film rights to "The Magnificent Ambersons" by Booth Tarkington, have been bought by Vitaphone. "The Hunchy Lover" is the third comedy release of Ernest Truex, the hip-pocket-sized stage comedian.

Cecil De Mille says that genuine jewelry is needed in pictures, that the camera shows up imitations. Gladys Swenson was once a Sennett bathing beauty, but she isn't now. This was learned during the filming of a scene of "Beyond the Rocks" when she had to plunge into the sea to be rescued by Rudolph Valentino.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE The program at B. F. Keith's theatre this week is easily the best shown at this playhouse for many a moon, containing as it does many acts which would pass easily as headliners.

Johnny Burke, however, is the peer of them all. Mr. Burke is a musical comedian, but she isn't a singer at all. He has a line of talk relative to his experiences during the war, from the time he was in the trenches to the time he was in the hospital. He is a comedian, but he is a comedian who is not a comedian.

Madame Besson in "The Woman Who Knew" shows her splendid emotional actress. Typifying the "woman" who ranges from queenly scorn to the tender emotions of a young, desolate mother, and back again with consummate skill and supporting cast is excellent. The story concerns the settlement of a divorce case in which Madame Besson is the "other woman." The battle of the wife with the sexual lawyer, the wife in the case furnishes the theme for the playlet. Although the lawyer, apparently, emerges the winner, the audience will value Madame Besson's excellent work.

Harry Adler and Rose Dunbar present an excellent comedy act. Adler has one of the funniest faces ever seen at Keith's, producing mirth with every facial movement. He is an excellent mimic also. His partner, Miss Dunbar, is an excellent foil for his comedy.

Miss Lois Bennett is billed as "A Ray of Western Sunshine." She is certainly a ray of sunshine and possesses a voice of no great strength, but she sings with a beautiful, clear, and is an accomplished player.

Hickey and Hart in "Setting the Trap" are a pair of acrobatic dancers. Miss Hart radiates personality and with her partner, Mr. Hickey, goes through a rapid-fire, modern, acrobatic dancing act in a most graceful style.

Josie O'Meers, "The dainty girl of the west," opens the bill with a singing and dancing number executed in a most graceful style. What follows in Japanese athletic pastimes, provide about the best closing feature seen here for years.

Topics of the Day, Arson's fables and Tith's news are excellent motion attractions.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE Reddon is life on the Arabian desert pictured better than in the motion picture. The play, which opened yesterday at the Merrimack Square theatre, A crowded house greeted the first evening performance.

of George Melford's production, which is adapted from the play by E. M. Hull. Those who follow the silver screen thought they had seen Rudolph Valentino in his best in "The Sheik" but in this picture, cast as the sheik, he is even better. He is ably supported by Agnes Ayers, who presents a charming appearance in every one of the many scenes.

The story deals with the adventures of Diana Mayo, an English girl, whose part is portrayed by Miss Ayers, who comes into the edge of the desert seeking adventure. The desert is ruled over by Mr. Valentino as the Arab Ben Hassan, a youth who has been educated in Paris but called to take charge of the Arabs when his father dies.

Diana Mayo is quartered in the city of Hakkara and after a series of escapades decides to leave the city and to spite the entreaties of a conservative brother. The night previous to her departure Hassan and his tribe, invade the city for night of The Sheik, takes over the casino and the word is passed around that none but Arabs will be allowed inside.

Diana Mayo as a dancing girl and slips by the guards only to be discovered by Hassan and sent to the desert. Hassan kidnaps her and takes her to his headquarters in the desert. Here he tells her she must become one of his wives, but just as he is making advances to her a sand storm comes up and he is forced to take refuge in his tent.

He returns and takes pity on the girl but forces her to attire herself in a native costume. She is kept in captivity and Hassan's love makes love to her she repulses him.

Hassan receives a note from a college friend, Rami de St. Hubert, that he is in the city. Hassan goes to meet his friend. Hassan makes her escape but loses her way and just as she is to be picked up by her hand, Hassan returns her.

The girl dreads a meeting with the paragon of native customs so Hassan returns her clothes to her.

While riding out one day Hubert persuades Hassan to allow him to take refuge in his tent. Hassan agrees and then receives word Diana has been captured by hand. A chase follows in which Hassan finds the words "Ah, my love, your wife is here." He finally rescues her, but is wounded. While Hassan is recovering Hubert tells an interesting story concerning Hassan's life, which changes things about completely.

"ROMANCE WEEK" President Warren G. Harding believes that the spirit of a new good times era is here with the dawn of 1922. The black theatre circuit also believes this and is bringing a new era and it has officially designated as "Romance week" in every one of its theatres stretching from New York to the farthest tip of the continent. People who have been in a rut who have been depressed, who have lost their zest in life, who have been looking for a new era of entertainment in the land of romance where they can forget their cares and worries and have a good time. The black theatre circuit is the local house of the black circuit and the "Romance week" program will offer you an entertainment that will give you a new zest in life and a new interest in life. What's the date? Watch the newspapers.

STAND THEATRE The biggest, most elaborate, and in fact, the best screen production shown at the Stand theatre in a long time, is without doubt "The Son of the Gun" a first class picture, which is being shown for the first three days of the week. This is one of the Vitaphone Co.'s million dollar productions which has been taken up an entire town in its make-up. This long film, which proves enjoyable from beginning to end, was seen by thousands of people yesterday's performance and all were unanimous in their praise for this wonderful photoplay.

The play deals with a young man, the son of a rich-quick man, who is a notorious crook, who is just wide enough in his dealings to keep out of jail. The son endeavors not to follow the footsteps of his dad and in order to keep along the straight path he leaves home and seeks his fortune in a little town, where he directs his energy to digging out the entire town from a striking oil. His plans are frustrated, however, by the appearance of his father, who through skill and crookedness, succeeds in getting the confidence of the town fathers of the town.

The father is about to put one more over when his plans are interfered with by a blaze, which threatens to wipe out the entire town. What follows is most interesting and must be seen to be appreciated. The production is full of interesting scenes, among which is that of an elaborate circus another very attractive scene is that which shows the son of Wallingford and his fiancée paddling their own canoe on a blazing oil lake. The entire reason of the play is a wonderful piece of work.

"A Wife's Awakening" is another delightful production. This has to do with a handsome young woman whose husband, through a crooked financial deal, is about to reach the end of his rope. The young husband forces his wife to go out and secure money in order to keep him away from prison. She gets the required sum from her mother only to see it sunk in another bad deal. Then the husband accuses his wife of having stolen the money in a dishonest way and attempts to force her to go out and get more. Then comes the climax, which is too good to tell about on paper.

In addition to the plays already mentioned there is also a pleasing comedy and a series of current events that are very interesting. The musical numbers also add considerably to the general enjoyment of the program.

RIP VAN WINKLE The story known to every American mind and entered to every American heart through the wonderful work of Joseph Jefferson, old time actor, opened a three day engagement at the Rialto theatre yesterday afternoon and delighted a capacity audience beyond all measure. The screen characterization was all the more dramatic because of the fact that the leading role, that of Rip, was played by Jefferson's son, Thomas Jefferson, who is due to assume a role equally famous to that of his father. The visible change that

People All Over America Want to Know What Is Behind the Phenomenal Success of This Preparation That Makes It the World's Greatest Tonic.

Day after day the question is being asked all over the United States and Canada: What is the reason for the phenomenal success of Tanlac? Why do we hear so much about it? Why do Tanlac sales keep increasing every year, when other medicines seem to have a short-lived popularity and are then forgotten?

The answer is simple enough. The fact of this has proven to people all over the American continent that Tanlac always produces most gratifying results and that the remarkable relief it brings seems to be more permanent than ever before believed possible.

Tens of thousands of persons, everywhere who took it when it was first introduced, continue to believe that they are still enjoying excellent health and millions of American homes are now using Tanlac as the family medicine after first trying it out thoroughly and proclaim it the World's Greatest Tonic.

Thousands of men and women of all ages and in all walks of life afflicted with stomach, liver and kidney disorders, some of the most long standing, as well as thousands of weak, thin, nervous men and women apparently on the verge of collapse have testified publicly that they have been fully restored to their normal health, strength and weight by its use.

Still others, who seemed fairly well, yet who suffered with indigestion, headaches, shortness of breath, dizziness, poor, gassy stomach, coated tongue, fullness of breath, constipation, but complete loss of appetite, sleeplessness at night and terribly dejected, depressed feelings, state that they have been relieved of these distressing symptoms and restored to health and happiness by taking Tanlac.

Tanlac has never been advertised as a cure-all or that it would perform unheard-of wonders. The advertising has been clean, straightforward and conservative. Actual facts and figures have been stated and stated in a true, business-like way that has commanded the confidence of all in the conservative claims set forth.

The enormous demand for Tanlac is due to merit alone, for no amount of advertising would continue to sell any article that does not possess real merit. Unless full value underlays the article advertised, the advertising will ultimately fall of its own weight. "You can fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

Tanlac has been well advertised, it is true, but such a large and rapidly growing demand could not be brought about by advertising alone. It is what the people themselves say that counts. One bottle of Tanlac is sold in a neighborhood through advertising, but ten more are sold in that same community as a result of the sale of that first bottle and that is why Tanlac has succeeded. People are always willing to talk about their ailments, but they are more than glad to tell others of the medicine that helped them. It is something they could not keep to themselves if they tried, for the impulse to sympathize with your fellowman and want to help him is one of the strongest, as well as one of the biggest, things in human nature.

That is the reason why the people of every section of the United States and Canada, have come to speak of Tanlac as the World's Greatest Tonic. And that is the reason why the demand for this remarkable medicine has grown to such proportions that it is almost impossible to keep dealers supplied.

Tanlac and Tanlac Vegetable Pills are sold in Lowell by Green's drugstore under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass.; A. D. Fells, Chelmsford, Mass.; Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading drug list in every town.—Adv.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

COUPLE RESCUED FROM DROWNING IN CHARLES

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Cries of a man and a girl coming from a deserted part of the Charles river basin startled the residents of the houses along Bay State road early last evening and attracted the attention of Russell Stearns and Norman Hunt, residents of No. 264.

As a result, Dorothy Williams and Archie Wiltz, the former a Simmons girl and the latter a Tech student, are safely in their dormitories today instead of at the bottom of the basin.

Messrs. Stearns and Hunt hurried from their apartments to the edge of the basin, where they dimly discerned a man and a girl struggling in the water of an ice hole some distance offshore. They climbed over the railing and made their way carefully to a point near the edge of the hole, as they dared, in the meantime shouting to the man and girl to hold on, as help was coming.

Then making a human chain, with the help of others who had by this time reached the spot, they crawled over the ice, to the accompaniment of loud and threatening cracks, until they were close enough to the struggling people to pull them out of the water to safety.

Considerable difficulty was found in getting the man and girl up onto ice strong enough to hold them as its edge crumbled under the weight of both rescued and rescuers. Finally the feat was accomplished, however, and the couple were taken to the apartments of their rescuers, where they were given hot baths, drinks and dry clothing.

Both Miss Williams and Mr. Wiltz were thoroughly chilled by their immersion in the icy water, they having been in it for about 10 minutes before being rescued. They stated that they had started skating at a point near the Cottage Farm bridge and continued downstream toward Harvard bridge. They were skating in tandem fashion. Mr. Wiltz skated backward and Miss Williams forward. They had no inkling that they were in any danger, they said, until there was a sudden cracking noise and the ice gave way beneath their feet.

Mr. Wiltz dropped suddenly into the water and Miss Williams immediately followed. They sank under the icy water, but were able to rise to the edge of the pool and grasp the ice rim.

All their efforts to climb up on the ice were unsuccessful, as the edge cracked continuously.

Then, as there were no other skaters in sight, they decided that their only hope of being saved was to attract the attention of some one in a nearby house. Therefore they began their calls for help. For several minutes the echo of their voices was all they got for their efforts and both were getting thoroughly chilled.

As their strength was ebbing and their powers of resisting the cold were fast fading, they were cheered by the answers of Messrs. Stearns and Hunt and the shouts of the latter urging them to hold on. In ten or more minutes they found themselves hauled out of the icy bath upon the solid ice and in a short time revelling in the warmth of hot baths, drinks and dry clothing.

HOW BOOKS FOR THE BLIND ARE PRINTED

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 10.—Louisville has a penmanship school as is found nowhere else in the United States. Its books for elementary grades weigh fifteen pounds. Its type setting machine has only six keys as compared with the 30-odd combinations possible in the average type setting machine, and a hammer and nail punch are the tools of the proof reader. Miss Susan B. Merwin, superintendent, says all this is true, and she probably knows.

The publishing house with these queer devices is the American Printing House for the Blind, and because of its publications thousands of blind persons read what otherwise would not be available to them.

The federal government pays the house $30,000 annually, and for this amount books are provided for 68 schools for the blind throughout the country. As an indication of the volume of work put out by the house, the report for the last fiscal year shows that 3,459,738 pages of printed matter and 12,550 bound volumes were produced, and in addition, 421 pamphlets and 104 copies of musical selections were printed.

The type setting machines have only six keys because the alphabet for the blind comprises six points or dots, with each letter consisting of from one to six dots, in different combinations.

Sheet brass is used in the machines, the words being punched in the metal. The plates go from the machines to the proof reader, who removes all mistakes with a hammer and a nail punch.

Plates then are sent to the press room, where they are placed on cylinder presses, which use paper that has been immersed in water for 24 hours so that the texture will not be torn.

Lack of a single code complicates the work of the establishment, Miss Merwin says. There are three codes—the New York Point, the American Braille and the revised Braille. Type of all of these systems is used at the plant.

FEELING OF OPTIMISM IN HOSIERY MANUFACTURING CIRCLES

Lowell Hosiery Company Reflects General Tendency — Lowell Output Handled Through New York Offices — Some Mill Gossip

New York and Boston hosiery buyers report increasing sales of silk and wool hosiery for women. There is a feeling of optimism in hosiery manufacturing circles generally, and The Sun was informed today that business at the Lowell Hosiery Co. on Mt. Vernon street is reflecting this general tendency in fair shape, considering the market conditions on raw wool and cotton.

The Lowell Hosiery Co. is running now on a "two-thirds basis," an expression that fills the bill. Manager Sparks informed a reporter that there is no boom in sight at all, and he does not want to be quoted as saying that the future is going to be a record-breaker, but there isn't any pessimism to be found in the hosiery company's office or manufacturing quarters, and everyone on Mt. Vernon street in the immediate vicinity of the big hosiery plant is looking for better times.

The Sun was informed that orders are being manufactured regularly to fill the New York headquarters demand. Practically all the Lowell output is now handled directly through the New York offices.

The spring samples of the Lowell hosiery output are now on display in the headquarters sales offices, and the line is one of the best ever shown to the wholesalers. The silk and wool hosiery is turned out promptly, the quality being extra good for the rather erratic market.

Simple wools have begun to take a push upward price, although it has been a case of "up and down" with the wool sales houses and buyers for some time. Owing to the irregular price quotations, mills are not stocking up heavily. The Sun was informed, for instance, a large hosiery concern will send out orders for certain grades of wool. The orders appear to be good enough for more buying right along, and this arouses the profit instinct of the man who has the wool. Immediately he jumps his price, and with a nice profit in view, proceeds to hold to that price while the mills hang back and limit their orders to small quantities to fill current orders.

It has been a sort of battle-royal right along in the game of getting good buys from holders of wool stocks. The tendency on the part of wool merchants to hold for higher prices or jump prices just as soon as there is any demand.

Hosiery people say the wool market cannot go much higher if the stocking industry is to do any amount of business, but Lowell hosiery men believe the time is coming, and soon—when the wanted materials can be bought to better advantage. They believe prices all around the big hosiery circle will come down eventually and allow the mills to return to normal production.

The cotton market has not been so erratic of late, but the tendency has been to slightly increase prices. There is a better demand for new varieties of hosiery—something along the dark colored, but neither as dark as the old, nor as light as anything of this kind, however, and The Sun man inspected a novel display of varied-colored hose for women's wear today that was brand new.

The demand is better for fine silk and artificial silk hosiery, when prices are adjusted to meet both the wholesaler's and retailer's idea of what such lines ought to sell for. The Lowell hosiery output of the many new varieties for women's exclusive wear, is attractive.

"Business conditions" said a representative of the company in response to a little questioning on 1922 prospects. "Just say that we are entirely optimistic. The Lowell hosiery has been in business for about 50 years here, and Lowell, we are glad to say, is our home and will continue to be our place to find good workmen and women for our line of work. We are entirely confident that the hosiery industry is going to be on a sounder basis before many months now. We are running fairly good right now, but not at all normal, of course. Commission house orders continue stable. No one is getting worried, and before long you will see the industry where it belongs."

Dispatches from New York today announce a better and steadily increasing sale of novelty leather hosiery in the last few weeks, and although the plain and checked leathers are revealing their share of attention, considerably more interest is being given to newer effects. The latest form of hosiery is in all sorts of color combinations and in checks, plaids and stripes, according to the New York and Boston handlers of stockings. The new vogue for novel suits for both men and women will also help the sale of this kind of hosiery for general wear.

Local Mill Gossip

The administrative forces of the Lowell Hosiery Co. are moving into the new offices on the second floor of the recently enlarged office building connected with the shoe factory. The office formerly had but one story, and the increasing business of the shoe manufacturing concern required such large executive forces that more room was necessary for the officers, clerks and the staff of salesmen.

Mr. Pilling took a Sun reporter through the new second-story addition and explained in detail just what the concern is doing to push along the prosperity campaign. The new offices are among the very finest in the country. There are many large windows, a new equipment of oak desks of the very latest variety, numerous modern office equipments rarely found in a shoe manufacturing establishment, and an extra lot of room "to move around in." Thousands of dollars have been expended on the new office addition, and the concern is prepared to go ahead with the very best arrangements for both production and shipment of goods.

The present method of shipping all goods upon receipt of orders, directly from the factory, is believed to be better than the former method of disposing of goods through outside agencies. It is to be, in the future, a direct-to-the-buyer plan, which has worked out better than the old, The Sun is informed.

The Pilling trade mark, now known all over North America, and some foreign countries, goes on every shoe box. Already a very large supply of shoes in current demand is ready for shipment, and Mr. Pilling is not afraid of the future. Stock-taking has been completed and the program adjusted for the New Year's business.

Business conditions at the Ipswich hosiery mills on Warren street remain about the same as reported a month ago. Market conditions are still unstable, and the general outlook from quarters of the executive offices compares with the opinion expressed at the Lowell hosiery plant. The wool and cotton markets are being followed closely by all local buyers.

It is announced that Duncan Rogers has been appointed advertising manager of the Ipswich mills, with an office with Lawrence & Co., the Ipswich mills selling agents at 89 Franklin street, Boston. The Ipswich people control four hosiery mills at the present time.

DINNER AND DANCE

The dinner and dance to be conducted by Bishop Delany assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, on Feb. 21, promises to be one of the most gratifying successes in the assembly's annals, according to reports heard at a meeting of the committee in charge last night. These reports came from the sub-committee in charge of dinner, decorations, hall, invitations, music and speakers, who were most enthusiastic over the progress made. After the plans had been thoroughly discussed adjournment was taken until Jan. 16. Faithful Navigator William H. Gallagher is chairman of the committee.

$200,000 Loss by Fire in Ashland Mill

ASHLAND, Jan. 10.—The Angier mills plant of three buildings on Main street, was destroyed by fire early today. The damage was estimated at $200,000. No one was injured. The mills normally employ 60 hands in the manufacture of waterproof paper. The fire started in the coating room of a one-story and spread rapidly to the larger two and three story buildings. All the buildings were of brick. A spark from one of the machines is thought to have started the fire. The fire departments of Framingham, Westboro and Natick were summoned to assist the local firemen.

Large sums have been expended on the new office addition, and the concern is prepared to go ahead with the very best arrangements for both production and shipment of goods.

prepared from the original formula of Dr. Catrin of the Faculty of Medicine of Paris. THEY POSITIVELY CONTAIN NO DRUGS

We want to prove to you the difference between taking Yeast Vitamine Tablets mixed with drugs (in which the quantity of Vitamine is necessarily small) and Genuine Yeast Vitamine Tablets absolutely pure and unadulterated in which you naturally get a much larger quantity of Vitamine. For this purpose and also to prove to you the value of our Genuine Yeast Vitamine Tablets, arrangements have been made to give you a regular $1.00 package absolutely free as explained herein. Before taking Yeast Vitamine Tablets we want you to weigh yourself, and note especially the thinness of your face and the color of your complexion. Then measure yourself around the chest and the waist. Then take one package of these tablets, following directions given below and watch the results.

Investigations of the Medical Research Committee (composed of eminent physicians and scientists) would seem to show that no matter what quantity of food may be taken, if such food is deficient in Vitamine, you gradually lose flesh and become thin and weakened while a much smaller quantity of food, rich in Vitamine, quickly produces good firm flesh and increases weight, strength and energy, provided your blood contains a sufficient quantity of oxygenated organic iron to enable you to assimilate your food properly. Without results. It is not the fault of the Vitamine, but it is the fault of your blood. The organic iron in your blood takes up oxygen from your lungs. This oxygenated organic iron unites with your digested food as it is absorbed into your blood, like fire unites with coal or wood, and by so doing it creates tremendous power and energy, thereby giving you great force, energy and endurance. Without organic iron in your blood your food merely passes through your body without doing you any good. Therefore, in practically every case where Vitamines are necessary, organic iron is also necessary.

For centuries scientists tried in vain to produce organic iron. At last the problem was solved, so that you may now obtain pure organic iron from any Firm drugist under the name of "Nuxated Iron" which is ready for immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood the moment it enters the system.

If you merely wish to gain greater strength, energy, vigor and endurance take Nuxated Iron only. DO NOT TAKE VITAMINES UNLESS YOU WISH YOUR WEIGHT INCREASED up to what a person should normally weigh. We do not claim, however, that Vitamine is a cure for everything. Some people are naturally too thin, and will probably remain so in spite of Vitamines and everything else.

Those whose meals consist principally of meat, poultry, white bread, meats of restaurant kind, fish, potatoes, tinned fruits and vegetables, pies and cakes are likely to suffer from under-nourishment and a weakened physical condition due to a deficiency of both Vitamine and Organic Iron, no matter how much they eat, and in such cases both Vitamines and Nuxated Iron should be taken.

Arrangements have been made with the drugists in this city to give every reader of this paper a large $1.00 package of Genuine Yeast Vitamine Tablets, absolutely free, with every bottle of Nuxated Iron that you purchase. KILLS HIS WIFE AND HIMSELF

Chelsea Man Also Shot and
Seriously Wounded His
Sister-in-Law

Opened Fire as Women Were Leaving Factory After
Day's Work

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—(Weakened physically and mentally by the ravages of tuberculosis and laboring under the hallucination that his wife was disloyal to him, John Waller, aged 30, an engineer and steamfitter, shot and killed his wife, Gladys, aged 28, as she was leaving the Chadbourne & Moore factory, on Carter street, Chelsea, last night after 5 yesterday afternoon, and seriously wounded her sister, Mrs. Anna Johns, aged 37, of 42 Chatham road, Everett, who was with her, and then committed suicide by shooting himself through the head.

After shooting his wife and sister-in-law Waller ran along Carter street to 6th street, and then up 6th street about 200 yards when he placed the revolver in his hand and pulled the trigger. He died instantly and was found clutching the weapon in his left hand. It was a .32-caliber revolver, and it appears that four shots were fired, which took effect.

Mrs. Waller was shot in the face and in the back, and Mrs. Johns was hit in the left breast.

Couple Living Apart
Waller and his wife had not been living together for about a year. They have one daughter, Marion, aged 10, who attends the Carter school in Chelsea. She has been with her mother for the past year and they have occupied a room at the home of Mrs. Charles W. Henderson, 27 Washington ave., Chelsea.

The shooting caused great excitement among the employees of the factory who were waiting for the day, and also among a large throng of young people who were skating on the Carter street grounds, opposite the factory.

According to the story told by several eyewitnesses, Waller was standing on Carter street a short distance from the outer gate of the Chadbourne & Moore factory when his wife and her sister, both of whom worked for the concern, left the factory. The time clock had been punched by the sisters and registered 5 p. m.

As the two women started to walk across to Carter street in the direction of Everett, Waller approached them to talk to them as they were talking to them as they walked into the Carter street playground. He was excited and using insulting language to his wife. Mrs. Waller told her husband she was going home with her sister. He replied: "You are not; you must come up to my room with me tonight." His wife said: "No, I am afraid."

Waller then drew a revolver from his pocket and shot Mrs. Johns in the left breast. She fell. Mrs. Waller turned and fled across Carter street toward the gate from which she had just emerged.

Kills Wife at Factory Gate
Her husband fired at her and the bullet struck her high in the back. As she entered the factory yard she tumbled and fell on her face. Waller followed her and lifting her with his left hand, reached underneath with his revolver and shot her in the face. The bullet passing through her head, it is likely that this was the fatal shot.

He dropped the body of his wife face down on the ground and fled out of the gate. He turned and ran along Carter street and up 6th street till he reached a point almost at the intersection of Maple street, when he shot and killed himself.

Ernest Sola, aged 17, of 154 Nichols street, Everett, who was passing, saw the tragedy. He ran to the assistance of Mrs. Johns. Her coat was on fire from the powder and he put out the flame. Mrs. Johns said: "I am dying, get help." Sola heard two shots fired and saw Waller running away with his revolver in his hand.

He chased Waller along 6th street and once, when Waller turned, Sola threw himself on the ground, believing Waller intended to shoot him. He was gaining on Waller when the latter committed suicide.

Mrs. Johns was taken to the Chelsea Memorial hospital in a passing automobile and had several hemorrhages on the way there. She is injured seriously, but it is expected that she will recover. The bullet apparently just missed her heart and did not puncture her lung, according to statement by a physician.

TRIES TO END LIFE IN JAIL

Aged Man Convicted of Arson Makes Serious Attempt at Suicide

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Daniel McSweeney, 74, convicted last night of burning the farm buildings on the homestead at Morrill, which he had deeded to his son, Frank C. McSweeney on condition that he be given a home there during his life, made a serious attempt at suicide in the county jail early today, jabbing his neck with a pocket knife. He was unconscious, but a physician thought he might recover.

SOLDIERS SORRY TO LEAVE RHINE

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Many of the 225 American soldiers who arrived from the Rhineland yesterday, on the transport "Cincinnati," said they were sorry to come home. Life had been "pretty soft" over there, they said, with all the marks one got for his American dollar.

NEW DAYLIGHT SAVING BILL

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—Representative Andrew P. Doyle of New Bedford, yesterday filed in the house a bill to provide for a seven months period of daylight saving. The bill would put the clock ahead an

With this very constipating diet—yet no constipation

Under the supervision of a leading scientist a remarkable feeding experiment was made. Persons who ate meat, milk, eggs, milk, cheese—all constipating foods—and yet they did not suffer from constipation because they added Fleischmann's Yeast to their diet.

When they ate the same constipating diet without Fleischmann's Yeast as corrective, all four were constipated.

Thousands of men and women all over the country have found that eating Fleischmann's Yeast daily gives them normal and regular elimination. Fresh yeast is rich in the elements which increase the action of the intestines and keep the body clean of poisons.

Add 2 to 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your own daily diet. You'll soon find that laxatives are unnecessary. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar yellow package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer.

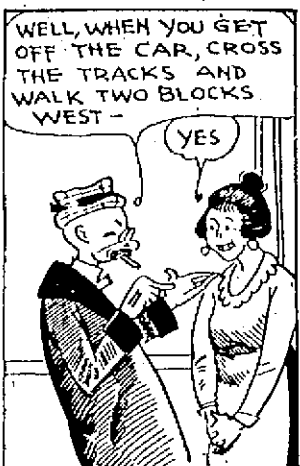

MOTHER!

Clean Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

Even a sick child loves the "fruit" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—ADV.

$70,000 Fire Loss at Submarine Base

PANAMA, Jan. 10.—Fire in the Coco Solo submarine base last night destroyed the bachelor officers' quarters and the torpedo control school, and damaged the other buildings. The loss is estimated at $70,000.

hour on the last Sunday of March and put it back an hour on the last Sunday in October. The period of daylight saving under the present law begins the last Sunday in April and closes the last Sunday in September.

A bill to repeal all daylight saving plans has been filed already by Senator Lyman W. Griswold of Connecticut.

AMENDMENT TO THE CITY CHARTER

A bill providing for an amendment to the city charter, whereby it will become the authority of the election commission to designate the hours at which the polls shall open at a city primary, introduced into the legislature by Rep. Henry Achen, has been referred to the house committee on cities.

Section 7 of the charter, to which the proposed amendment applies, now states that "the polls shall open at 12 o'clock, noon and close not earlier than 8 p. m."

The amendment will allow the commission to open the polls at its discretion.

OBSERVED HER 102d BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Clarissa P. Smith of Dracut has been receiving congratulations upon reaching her 102d birthday last Sunday. She is believed to be the oldest person residing in this vicinity. Although kept to her bed, she possesses most of her faculties and was able Sunday to converse with all callers and entertain informally several relatives who were present during the day.

Mrs. Smith was born in Potton, Canada, Jan. 8, 1820 and came to Dracut in 1839. She is the daughter of Ezra and Sara Foster and is the last of a family of eight children, nearly all of whom enjoyed a long life. She was married to Henry Smith in 1855. At one time, Mrs. Smith worked as a weaver in a Lowell cotton mill. Her husband died about 40 years ago as the result of a fall at the Woman's Exchange building.

DISABLED AMERICAN VETERANS. Commander William B. Green of the Massachusetts department of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, will be present at the meeting of Lowell chapter, No. 5, to be held in Memorial hall this evening, business or important character is to be transacted, officers seats, and the entire membership of the chapter should be on hand. Among the important items will be the presentation of the proposed constitution and by-laws by the state commander to the officers of the local chapter.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION. Delegates from several societies in the city gathered last night at the annual district church for a meeting of the Lowell Christian Endeavor union. A supper at 6 o'clock was followed by a conference on committees and a long session by the assembly. The devotion were led by Clara Chapman, Rev. John Singleton gave an address on "A New Year's Message." In which he pointed out many responsibilities in the work of the coming year which might be used to broaden the scope of active lives.

COTTON REPORT. WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Cotton cleared prior to January 1, amounted to 7,581,272 running bales including 123,320 round bales, counted in half bales; 3,603 bales of American-Egyptian and 2,978 bales of sea island. To January 1 last year, 11,551,648 bales were cleared, including 282,127 round bales; 5,122 bales of American-Egyptian and 1,413 of sea island.

JOINT INSTALLATION EXERCISES HELD

The joint installation of the officers of Gen. Robert Ames camp, 18, U. S. W. V. and Edith Prescott Walcott auxiliary, 3, was held last evening in Memorial hall and the affair was largely attended. Prior to the business meeting supper was served by a committee from the auxiliary headed by Mrs. Ida Faneuil and this was followed by ap-

stock company offerings with a penchant for "first nights," crowded that popular amusement auditorium again last evening and received another surprise. To put it plainly the offering provided by Miss Marquerite Fields and her competent players was a brilliant performance throughout—a real success.

Camden Man's Amazing Message to Rheumatics.

After Suffering Intense Agony for Many Years—He Wants to Tell Others.

Dr. Brigid: I simply had to write and tell you what your wonderful Camphorol has done for me. For many years I suffered the tortures of Rheumatism as only those who have it know. At the same time I had a terrible itch and covered with sores, the sharp pains were so severe, I could not sleep. Had to get up to rub and scratch. It almost drove me crazy. I tried doctor after doctor and all kind of medicine I was told to take, which only left me worse. I could not bend my knees. I am a steamfitter by trade and had to give up my work. Seeing nothing to be done, I thought I would take another chance and told my daughter to get me a package of Camphorol. You can imagine my surprise after using Camphorol. I started to get better right away. After using two jars of Camphorol I am well and happy and have gone back to work. I shall never forget the day I took a chance on Camphorol. After all the years I suffered, it feels so good to be well again. Robert W. Teesdale, 2917 High St., Camden, N. J.

OPERA HOUSE. Lowell patrons of the Opera House

for no better work has been seen in Lowell all season than that presented by the players last evening in Cosmo Hamilton's romantic comedy, "Scandal," produced under the direction of Louis Albion. There were no "two part" wins for leads last evening. Each player had a part that suited the individual performer, the production was smooth, and there was evidence of thorough study of each part. From "leads" down to "Pewsey" and "Mrs. Brown," the performance was creditable in every respect.

"Scandal" has been produced in one or two other New England cities this season, but never with any more real ability on the part of stock players. The story is built, briefly, around an innocent visit of Beatrice Vanderyke to the studio of one Sutherland York, artist of somewhat dubious reputation. The young lady's peck into Bohemian life proved disastrous, the price she was called upon to pay as the supposed wife of Felham Franklin, who was induced to pose as her husband, proved abominably disastrous. The final denouement when love came to both young people, was dramatic in the extreme.

Perhaps a big feature of last night's performance was the brilliant dialogue during the many laugh-provoking situations. The piquant repartee was well worth going to hear. None in the audience really knew until the third and last curtain just how the tangled skeins of the play were to be unraveled, and like most of Cosmo Hamilton's plots, the unusual situation is the easiest thing in the world to explain after it is all over.

Miss Fields gave a charming and better work has been seen at the Opera House in recent years. Graciously ways, partly expressive, full of action in dialogue and always unaffected, the leading woman in "Scandal" gave a truly remarkable performance throughout.

As Pelham Franklin, Beatrice's choice after the semi-tragedy of the tale was unfolded, Harry Hollingsworth was the ardent lover with enforced restraint, and his work throughout was a genuine revelation. He is a master of stage presence, dialogue and unaffected action.

Mr. Matur, as Sutherland York, appeared as the heart-free artist in Bohemia, and the applause that greeted him on his appearance early in the first act, shows how much his fine work with the Lowell players has been appreciated all season by theatre patrons. Vincent Dennis gave a very clever performance as Malcolm Fraser, claim of Pelham. He, too, received applause for excellent work. Miss N. Crawford, as Miss Honoria Vanderyke, sister of Beatrice; Miss Anna Layne as Mrs. Henry Vanderyke, the girl's mother, had difficult roles but were excellent throughout. Miss Flora Frost as Mrs. Brown, and Miss Ruth Fildling in the role of Regina Waterhouse, also filled their parts acceptably. William Worswick was a genuine "Pewsey," male servant in the "house of work," and Louis Albion made a very excellent Major Barnet Thatcher. No smoother performance was ever given on a first night, and "Scandal" is sure to have splendid houses the remainder of the week.

A feature of the performance of particular interest to women patrons of the Opera House, were the new wardrobe worn by the feminine members of the cast. Some of the most charming gowns and wraps ever seen on the local stage were exhibited by several members of the stock company, and were admired, of course, by patrons whose expectations were not disappointed.

Why Dread Old Age?

It don't make much difference how old you are if you only keep in good health and are active. Many people appear older at 80 than others do at 70, to keep looking young you have got to enjoy good health, and do as little worrying as possible. Backaches, swollen joints and legs, disturbed sleep by being compelled to arise one or more times during the night are sure symptoms of kidney trouble, and should have immediate attention to avoid serious consequences. SEVEN BARKS, nature's remedy of roots and herbs, is one of the best remedies to take not only for affected kidneys, but for liver, stomach and heart troubles.

Middle-aged people realize that they cannot perform their work or move around as fast as formerly. The internal organs feel the effect of age and do not perform their work properly. The heart palpitates at the slightest exertion and the back aches after a day's work. The muscles and flesh get flabby, and the blood thinner than formerly. It is then you need a good tonic and bowel regulator—you cannot find a more reliable and efficient remedy for these conditions than SEVEN BARKS.

If you want to enjoy life, recover some of your youthful vigor and have the glow of health, get SEVEN BARKS of your druggist. Do not accept a substitute—adv.

Russia Opposes Genoa as Meeting Place

PARIS, Jan. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Advises from Cannes are to the effect that a second telegram received by the supreme council from Foreign Minister Chicherin last night says that the Russian government considers Genoa, Italy, not suited as the site for the forthcoming international finance and economic conference. He declares the city too remote and the communications facilities insufficient, proposing London instead.

THE BONUS AT LAST

It is good news that comes from Washington relative to the decision of the republican leaders to pass a soldiers' bonus bill after the war has ended. It is now over three years since the soldiers were discharged and over half a dozen bills were presented to congress providing for a bonus, none in one form, some in another, but all recognized the right of the service men to compensation over and above the pension they received while in the government service. It will be remembered that when congress was about to enact a bonus bill calling for a cash payment of about $100,000,000, President Harding appealed to congress to postpone the measure, as to make such a draft on the country at that time would seriously affect the business situation and retard economic recovery.

But nobody at any time denied that the soldiers were entitled to a generous bonus. Now it is proposed that a bonus bill be passed and that the funds be taken from the interest on the war loans instead of levying a tax upon the country for that purpose. That is a good suggestion. Here the American service men have been kept waiting for what belongs to them just as if their claim was not one that should be promptly honored by the government.

Many of the service men have been without employment and have been sorely pressed owing to the hard times. They are, therefore, in need of relief from the government and should get a liberal bonus.

Only the other day a man who served in the Canadian army and who is an American citizen, called at The Sun office to inquire whether he is exempt from the poll tax levied by the state to pay the $100 bonus. He stated that he had received $100 from the Canadian government and that the maximum is $500. That indicates that Canada has been much more generous with her service men than has the United States.

TEMPORARY APPOINTMENTS

It would seem to be time for everybody at city hall to realize that the commission form of government is dead and that under the new charter now in force the heads of departments are held responsible for results. The mayor, it is true, is general supervisor, as it were, and is expected to look for results rather than to go into the departments to dictate what shall or shall not be done.

The proposition coming from city hall, that temporary appointments may be made by the mayor to departments now in charge of holdover superintendents, if carried out, would contravene the law and leave the city liable to pay two opposing men for the same position. The city should be protected against this possibility through an arrangement by which the official officially chosen would receive no salary.

The usual course, however, is for the new official to draw his salary and then if the court decides against him, he simply retires and there is no question as to the salary he received while in office. Should such a situation arise under the present charter the second official may not be allowed to draw any salary, pending a court decision as to the legality of the appointment.

It may well be hoped that our city shall be saved the necessity of court proceedings arising from a strained or unwaranted interpretation of the charter provision for temporary appointments or for any other cause.

MEXICO'S ADVANCE

The latest news from Mexico is that the national affairs and the people have really undergone a complete transformation under the regime of Obregon and his followers. Trains are no longer crowded by soldiers. Obregon travels about the land in second-class coaches and "mingles with his people," the correspondents tell us, "collegially." The railroads are being returned to their owners. Rebellions have for the most part ceased. Even Villa, as we all know, has retired and is no longer the almost invincible plague Mexico has had. He is now an ardent tiller of the soil. Liquor laws are being rigorously enforced, gambling for the most part has ceased to pollute the place. The best thing of all, perhaps, is the way of advancement is the new autonomy of the individual states, despite the undesirable results it sometimes produces.

It looks in truth as if a new era had begun in the land below the Rio Grande. It might be said that this is really the first of Mexico's recent revolutions for which, in one case of Obregon's own phrase, it is not necessary to look to the nation from its liberators. If Obregon makes good, the United States government will back him up, and it will probably be Mexico's last chance, to the "new era" will bear watching. It is to be hoped that she has hit the right road at last and that she will soon make a new record for progress, law and order.

RATE CUT WILL HELP

The hearing called in Washington on Monday to discuss the Snell-McCormick forestry bill was of considerable importance to lumber merchants everywhere. Forest products are the backbone of all industry, and the cost of getting them to the big points of consumption is always a good barometer of business conditions. If $10,000,000 acres of idle forest land in the central west and the east were put to work growing trees, high freight rates on lumber would not be the terrifying thing that they are to the American industries. The recent cut in lumber rates will be a help to a great business.

The importance of a national forest policy to every business in the country, as well as to newspaper publishers and printers in particular, is shown in a recent article by Warren B. Bullock, secretary of the National Forestry program committee, which sets forth the small cost per acre of reforestation. He shows that the cost is only $5 to reforest, commercially, an acre of land in many localities, and never more than $15. The United States with an unemployment record of $1,000,000 acres of land, spend $85,000,000 for imported paper for newspaper use alone last year. All industries should join in the campaign for a national forest policy that will give the needed results.

"THE ROCKS" OF ST. MIEHEL

A good many Bay State veterans of the late war will recall "The Rocks" standing out from the bluff about 100 feet from the St. Michel-Verdun road and 250 feet from the Moselle river. They are about 100 feet high and 50 to 75 feet in diameter, and extend above the plateau, upon the edge of which, protected by "The Rocks," were two lines of German trenches. For hundreds of years they have been landmarks of this region. The rock nearest St. Michel has been a shrine since the middle of the 17th century.

It is interesting to learn that Massachusetts has just secured options upon nearly three acres of the land on the plateau above "The Rocks," as much more around and in front of "The Rocks" and three acres across the road extending to a path beside the river. The city of St. Michel makes a gift of "The Rocks" to the state of Massachusetts. A splendid memorial is to be raised in front of these historic rocks to Massachusetts men who died on the battlefields of France. The tablets will contain the names of the 2,300 men and women from the old Bay State who died in the cause of freedom on the soil of France.

Massachusetts is blazing the trail for memorials to her war dead in France. The French government officials who assisted the American commission in selecting "The Rocks," declare it to be one of the best sites for an imposing memorial in all the war-stricken area.

MURDOCK TO THE FORE

Union labor is bound to catch "Jim" Murdock, the labor party man in the new Canadian government. Murdock is widely known in railroad circles in the United States, having been for more than a decade in Cleveland, O., where he has been one of the vice-presidents of the International Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. His duties have taken him to Massachusetts frequently during the past. He has had many experiences in labor problems which can only be duplicated by those who have dealings with human nature "in the raw." Murdock used to be on the Canadian Board of Commerce, but when he discovered that the board was only a buffer between the government and public opinion, he got out of the situation by taking the first train back to Cleveland and his brotherhood berth.

What "Jim" Murdock will accomplish in his 1922 role as a Canadian cabinet minister is a matter of great interest to his railroad friends all over the United States. He is known as a man of ability, foresight and powerful energy and, labor has no better, stronger, or more powerful champion than "Murdock of the rails." There are foolish problems ahead for "Jim," but to him, his friends believe they will be readily solved. Though born in England and educated in Canada, Murdock has been living in Ohio so long that he has been thoroughly Americanized. His railroad friends say that is why they are looking north this month to see if "Jim" is going to start anything.

DROP IT, MR. FORD

It is time Henry Ford should drop his hobby of the "Jewish menace." His charges against the Jews have been disproved over and over again, so that by keeping up his references to an alleged evil which is non-existent, he only proves that on such matters he is wholly unreliable.

Senator Watson has put the government to much expense in the work of investigating the charges that American soldiers were shot and executed by their officers without the formality of a trial. The charges were based on mere rumors which were given as much credence as if they were authentic facts by the southern senator who is at best but a cynical brawler.

It will be noticed that after all, the British and Japanese diplomats carried their main contention of the Washington conference, "The British succeeded in getting the submarine put out of business as a weapon of war and Japan made no change in her Chinese policy. In reality these two powers were the only victory of the conference.

If Postmaster General Hays has been offered $150,000 a year to assume the management of the moving picture business, the offer is made for other reasons than demonstrated capacity. The picture men could get access of better managers for one-third the amount.

One would suppose that the city engineer would take orders from the public service board and not from the mayor. Every such board or commission usually controls its employees; and orders from higher powers should be given through the board and not the direct to subordinate employee.

What She Would Do

A number of young women were having lessons in fencing from a professional instructor. "Now, mademoiselle," said the teacher to one girl to whom he had been trying to impart the first principles of fencing, "show would you use your foil if an opponent feinted?" After due deliberation, the girl replied: "I think I'll just tickle her with the point of it to see whether she was feinting."

Ain't Women Awful?

Two women who hated each other so heartily that they always kissed when they met were talking to each other in that sweetly affectionate way in which women on such terms converse. One said, with a sigh: "My, how I hate to think of my 36th birthday anniversary!" "My!" said the other innocently. "What a memory you have! Did something unpleasant happen that day?"

Had Rich Customer

The street peddler was selling neckties by the public library while his capers watched for the sign of a bluecoat. He had to work fast. "This here scarf," he shouted, "makes a gent look dressable and you'll be three bucks for it at any haberdashery." I brought those over from Paris, he said. The king of Paris wore one exactly like this at the grand ball given at the Buss de Balcony. A capper stepped up and bought one. "Ah," said the peddler, "Mr. Pierpont Morgan takes this one."

Cigars vs. Prescriptions

An enterprising tradesman sent a doctor a box of cigars which had not been ordered, with a bill for $6. The accompanying letter stated that "I have ventured to send these on my initiative, being convinced that you will appreciate their exquisite flavor." In due course, the doctor replied: "You have not asked me for a consultation, but I venture to send you three prescriptions, being convinced you will derive therefrom as much benefit as I shall derive from your cigars. As my charge for a prescription is $2, this makes us even."

Texas Versus

What holds the year that lies before? What holds the future? What waits upon the distant shore? We sense but cannot see? What bears the tide of mighty times? When every day is great? What means the sound of New Year chimes? What tells the skein of fate?

The year is like a broad highway far toward the future gone. And some will linger off to play And some press on and on. We hold the secret of our fate. The path our feet have trod Will lead us to the shining gate Of our own future of God.

Within our souls the power is given To rise above defeat. To climb the steep ascent of heaven Where stands the mercy seal.

What holds the year that lies before? What holds the future? What waits upon the distant shore? I shall answer thee.

—Leonard Willington in Fort Worth Record.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Recently I was speaking with a friend of mine who is quite some fisherman. We were discussing different places in which fish were raised and he informed me he knew of a place where they were raising fish in a cranberry meadow. He said that last spring the state leased, through its fish and game commission, about 50 acres of land in Sutton, in which were four ponds, that shortly after the close of the Civil war, were started as cranberry meadows. At present, the culture has been there, he said, and among the species put in are pout, perch and sunfish. He said that it was planned to bring several species of fish from farther west in the country to breed in the Sutton ponds. Among these are to be the bluegill, called bass and the crappie.

Times may be hard and the unemployment wave may be claiming many victims but one would never imagine such conditions if he were to judge by the throngs that were gathered for the side moving picture houses shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, outside one popular theatre a line that extended for a block along the sidewalk stood for nearly half an hour patiently awaiting the opening of the day's performance. Wonder if you remember the "Gratitude" and if you want to call it, the war tax, has something to do with this rush of patronage.

Practically the entire legal fraternity of Lowell is watching the daily developments in the Patterson trial at Boston. The district attorney of Suffolk county, whose removal the attorney general seeks, evidently has many friends among the lawyers of this city and almost every morning when attorneys are congregated at their rendezvous at the district court, they heard remarks and comments about the case.

Another trial that is being followed closely by many persons in this city is that of Clarence W. Lord, of Melrose, alleged to have killed Edwina Jean Preston in Wakefield last April. The fact there is a Lowell man on the jury and that several tallmen were called from this city adds interest to the case from a Lowell viewpoint.

I am told the Canadian government has decided to copy the American ideal in a short time. The Canadian

POLITICAL "COME BACK"

French Speaking Canada Recaptures its Former Position in Dominion Affairs

MONTREAL, Jan. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—French speaking Canada has, with the accession of the new King ministry, recaptured its former position in Dominion affairs, after four years of "isolation." MacKenzie King is at present at the helm and French Quebec, which returned a solid Liberal group to parliament in the recent general election, has its full quota of members in the federal ministry. It expects to play as large a part in matters of government as it did during the administration of the great French-Canadian, Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The "isolation of Quebec, politically speaking, was about in 1917, and was due to differences of opinion on the question of compulsory military service. The French-speaking Canadians opposed conscription when their English-speaking compatriots believed their measure necessary.

The group of 55 Liberals sent to the federal parliament by Quebec in the recent general election comprised more than half of the following of Premier King, who has 117 supporters in the house of commons. Complacence already have been heard that Quebec's influence in governmental affairs is likely to be greater than her population warrants. Approximately one-quarter of the population of Canada is in Quebec.

Among the "strong men" representing French Canada in the new ministry is Sir Lomer Gouin, who was premier of Quebec for 15 years, and has won the reputation of an able and wise administrator.

COLLEGE GIRL SHOTS HERSELF ACCIDENTALLY

CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 10.—Miss Mary Trask, of California, 20 years old, a senior at Radcliff college, was at the Cambridge hospital last night as the result of an accidental shooting at the college.

According to the college authorities, Miss Trask was alone in her room examining a revolver which she recently purchased. A safety device was not properly set, the weapon was discharged, and a bullet entered the head of Miss Trask, just above the right eye.

At the hospital yesterday the bullet was removed and last night hospital physicians expressed the belief that Miss Trask would recover.

The shooting of the college girl was not reported to the police and every effort was made to keep it quiet, but the news leaked out late yesterday. Although Miss Trask comes from California, she registered the year from the home of her aunt in Boston.

ASKED TO SUPPORT PATENT RELIEF BILL

Members of congress from Massachusetts have been asked by the executive committee of the Massachusetts state chamber of commerce to give their support to the patent relief bill now pending in congress and which it is understood is to be acted upon by the house of representatives on Wednesday.

The bill will reorganize the patent department at Washington and afford immense relief to manufacturers all over the country who have found increasing difficulty to secure patent rights of data from the bureau as at present organized. The results have been that inventors and manufacturers have suffered severe losses and are having serious delays in securing information and necessary papers.

The executive committee of the state chamber, through the general secretary, has written as follows: "The executive committee of the Massachusetts state chamber of commerce respectfully urges your favorable consideration and support for the patent relief bill, which the committee believes to be of unusual importance to the business men of Massachusetts, especially the industrial and manufacturing classes."

The deplorable condition of the patent department is a matter of serious consequences to the manufacturers of Massachusetts and New England. The industrial property of this section is not only founded upon quality and workmanship, but upon brains and inventive genius, whereby invaluable contributions to the world have been made. "The same factors are dependent upon in the future to enable us to maintain our position, hence the existing handicaps in acquiring patent rights is a matter of grave concern. Therefore, the committee hopes that your support for the passage of this important measure can be counted upon."

Before 1878 there were no stock exchanges in Japan. The cent piece is now a thin silver coin, so thin and small that it is much smaller than an American dime. I understand the new Japanese nickel will be the same size and of the same weight as that turned out by the United States.

Roger Sheenell who died in Boston Sunday was a veteran worker in the Irish cause. A Fenian, a Land Leaguer and everything else that promised to aid Ireland, he was usually a prominent figure at Irish meetings. He always wore a full hat and carried a cane. He looked the part of an Irish gentleman on all occasions. He passed away as the Ball Breem decided to accept the treaty and doubtless with a fervent "Thank God."

Some merchants complain of women who leave their baby carriages in the doorways so as to block traffic. It would also be rather dangerous to the babies should any rush be made from the store as in case of fire.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

This Way Up

There was Alexander, once,
Who was always doing stunts
Which the pessimists declared he couldn't do;
But he waved them all aside
And he wouldn't be denied
And he dreamed a lot of dreams and made 'em true;
In his brain ambition swirled
And he said, "I want the world,
I would rule the map and all the towns that dot it!"
Well, he wanted it enough
And he had the proper stuff,
So he got it!

Chris Columbus had a scheme
Which they called a silly dream,
For he thought that he could prove the world was round.
And although the wise ones laughed,
Chris embarked upon his craft
And he sailed across the ocean, westward bound;
Others may have had the hunch
But they lacked the vim and punch
Which taught Chris to grab his chance while he could spot it,
For he wanted it enough
And he had the proper stuff,
So he got it!

That's the secret, that's the dope
For the man who tries to cope
With the lousy world about him. He can gain
Almost anything he wants
If he will to get it haunts
Every fibre of his body and his brain;
If you know what you desire
And you simply never tire
Of the grinding and the toil as you beset it,
If you want it bad enough,
And you have the proper stuff
You can get it!

King Alexander and Princess

Marie of Rumania to Marry

BELGRADE, Jan. 10.—The engagement of King Alexander to the Princess Marie, second daughter of King Ferdinand and Queen Marie of Rumania, was announced today.

Princess Marie is 22 years of age. She was reported engaged to Alexander, who was then prince regent of Yugo-Slavia, in September, 1920. King Alexander, who is the second son of the late King Peter of Serbia, is 31 years old. He is visiting King Ferdinand and Queen Marie of Rumania at their chateau at Sinal.

Woman Sent Home From Hospital in Undertaker's Wagon Sued Doctor

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 10.—A verdict for $13,466 was awarded Mrs. Mary L. Morrill of this city yesterday by a jury who heard her $25,000 suit against Dr. Alphonsine J. Lalonde, in which she claimed damages following a stomach operation performed in the defendant's private hospital.

Mrs. Morrill charged that a carelessly performed operation resulted in great suffering, that Dr. Lalonde told her she had but two days to live thereafter and that when she wanted to go home to die she was sent there in an undertaker's wagon instead of an ambulance.

No answer to the charges has been filed by Mr. Lalonde. The answer must be filed this month.

GIRLS CITY CLUB

New military and dressmaking classes will begin at the Girls City club, 715 E. Main street, this evening. These classes are given by teachers from the Lowell Vocational school. Those desiring to take either course should register at the club before this evening's session begins. A Red Cross course in home nursing will begin within a week or 10 days at the club. Registration is now open for this course. The classes will be conducted on Tuesday and Friday evenings by a registered Red Cross nurse.

TUFTS TO FIGHT DISBARMENT

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—That Nathan A. Tufts, removed from the office of district attorney of Middlesex county, will contest the disbarment proceeding brought against him by the Middlesex County Bar association was indicated yesterday when Tufts' attorney, Melvin M. Johnson, filed an appearance in superior court, East Cambridge.

No answer to the charges has been filed by Mr. Tufts. The answer must be filed this month.

DODGED DRAFT, ARE REFUSED CITIZENSHIP

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Federal Judge Morison yesterday denied the privileges of American citizenship to 37 men because it was shown to the court that every one of them had claimed deferred classification in the draft during the world war on the ground that they were alien.

In the list were Greeks, Swedes, Russians, Irish, Norwegians, Turks and Armenians, and all had appeared in the United States district court for their final papers prior to the draft law being passed by congress. In consequence of their exemption claim, the 37 were put in class 5 and thus occupied military service.

PI ALLEY POSTED AS PRIVATE WAY

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—PI Alley, a by-way as old as Boston itself and considered public property by the thousands who use it as a short cut between Newspaper Row and city hall, was posted today as a private way. Bostonians paused on their way to business or for luncheon to read the signs that dispelled the notion that this shared in its municipal ownership.

"All persons are hereby warned that it is the intention to prevent any persons from occupying any right of way or easement in William Court, the sign said, giving the passage the name by which it is known only in official records. It was explained by the corporations that posted the notice that it was done once in 20 years to retain its property rights.

PI Alley, so-called because of the dumping into it of the piled type from newspaper composing rooms, years ago, or "PI" alley, as it is known to others because of restaurants that sold a piece of pie and a cup of coffee for a nickel, also years ago, will not be closed. The signs will be kept up for 48 hours, traffic continuing meantime, and then will be taken down, not to appear again for another 20 years.

Between 1901 and 1919, Japan had an increase of 1,000 new factories.

Col. J. B. Dodge Released by Bolsheviks

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Col. John Bigelow Dodge, who was arrested by Bolshevik authorities at Batum on Dec. 9, as an alleged secret British agent, has been released and is awaiting passage from Batum to Constantinople, according to a despatch to the Times. It was officially explained from Moscow that his arrest was an error. (Col. Dodge is a stepson of Lionel George Guest, fourth son of Lord Wimborne, and a grandson of the late John Bigelow, American man of letters and minister to France.)

Would Make Theft of Autos Perilous

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The annual standards meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers today had before it recommendations for a uniform system for numbering engines which would go far toward making the thefts of cars perilous. The number plate would be an integral part of the engine, and so stamped that it would be next to impossible to eradicate the original number and substitute another.

Marquis Okuma Died Early Today

TOKIO, Jan. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Marquis Okuma, who died early today, has been given posthumous honors by Emperor Yoshihito. He is given court rank, junior grade, and is decorated with the Grand Cordon of the Chrysanthemum, with collar, in recognition of his services for the state.

Three Killed and Dozen Wounded in Clash

LONDON, Jan. 10.—In a bloody fight between fascists and communists at Bergiola, near Garrara, Italy, three persons were killed and a dozen badly wounded, says a Times Milan despatch. Carbineers who intervened were fired upon by the riflemen of both factions. Wholesale arrests followed.

Two Shot in Belfast—Saloon Raided

BELFAST, Jan. 10.—Four men raided a saloon last night, seriously injuring a tenant. One of the raiders was captured. Two bartenders employed in another saloon were seriously shot while walking on the street.

CHelsea STORE MANAGER SHOT BY GUNMEN

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Alexander D. Corbett, 44 years old, manager of the John T. Connor store at 750 Broadway, Chelsea, was shot down in the doorway of his home, 60 Border street, East Boston, by one of two gunmen shortly after 9 last night, but managed to hold onto the money bag containing the day's receipts, $250. The store manager was picking his way through a dark hallway leading to his flat on the first floor when one of the gunmen, opening the street door, threw a flashlight on him and opened fire. Corbett screamed and fell to the floor, with a bullet in his right shoulder. Corbett claims that while he lay on the floor clutching the money bag, a hidden hand in the dark reached out and attempted to wrest it from him. This happened in a fraction of a second. But the sound of tenants rushing to the darkened hallway caused the bandit to take to his heels. He dashed out of the doorway, joining his pal, who had stayed on the sidewalk, and together they fled along Border street. Corbett, painfully wounded, but still game, staggered to his feet and was assisted to his apartments by neighbors. A telephone call to the East Boston police station brought several officers to the house. The wounded man was sent to the East Boston relief station, where, on examination by Dr. George B. Allen, it was found that the bullet had entered the back and plowed through the right shoulder. Corbett was held at the hospital.

Meanwhile, Lieut. Martin King threw a cordon of police around the lower end of the island and shortly after 11 o'clock four suspects had been captured. All were taken to the hospital, where two were partially identified by Corbett.

While robbery is believed to have been the motive, the police also accept the possibility that a desire for revenge may have figured in the shooting.

EXPECT BRITISH CABINET TO APPROVE PACT

CANNES, France, Jan. 10. (By the Associated Press).—Notification of endorsement by the British cabinet of the written pledge binding Great Britain immediately to aid France to the full extent of her military and naval resources in case of aggression by Germany, is expected from London by tonight. The pact, agreed upon by Premiers Briand and Lloyd George, was telegraphed to the British cabinet last night.

The council planned to recess today until 3 p. m. while a sub-committee engages in the delicate task of framing an invitation to the forthcoming international financial and economic conference to a country which has already formally accepted. This situation arose from the action of the French cabinet in its eagerness to be represented at the Genoa meeting sent a regular acceptance to the council's tentative query if an invitation would be acceptable under certain conditions.

Meanwhile the French delegation is awaiting results of consultation in Paris regarding settlement of the German reparations question.

ON THE PROSPECTIVE TRAIL.—Another Lowell contracting concern is showing evidence of prosperity in the coming of the New Year.—The R. E. Runels Construction Co. Although only established in this city about a year, the company reports several contracts on the 1922 order books, and the very first to be got under way is the reconstruction work on the Appleton National bank building, which is to be made into an up-to-date structure with 33 separate offices. The Runels concern is strictly Lowell in every respect with offices in the Hirsch building.

MRS. GREEN WEAK AND FRAIL

MRS. S. V. GREEN

READ HER LETTER.—BEMPHIA, Kansas.—"Bronchitis left me in a weak, run-down condition so I was too weak and frail to do my work. I took all kinds of cough syrups and tonics but did not seem to gain. One day I read about Vinol and tried it. I commenced to improve. It gave me a good appetite, it built up my wasted tissues. I gained in weight and it strengthened and toned me up generally."—Mrs. S. V. Green, 2 South State street, Emporia, Kansas.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains the curative tissue building elements of fresh cod's livers (without oil), together with the blood making and strength creating properties of iron and Beef Panacea which makes Vinol without a peer for overcoming frail, weak, run-down condition. $1.00 per bottle, guaranteed.—Adv.

Volcano Ometepe in Active Eruption

SAN JUAN DEL SUR, Nicaragua, Jan. 10.—The volcano Ometepe, on the island of Ometepe, eight miles from the western shore of Lake Nicaragua, is in active eruption. Many thousands of cocoa plants have been destroyed, large areas of grazing lands are covered with ashes and many cattle are dead. The inhabitants of the adjacent villages are fleeing to zones of safety. Considerable lava is flowing down the 5108-foot cone, but has as yet done no material damage. The eruption is the worst since 1885.

Fire Wrecks Historic Louisville Building

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 10.—Fire early today partially destroyed one of Louisville's historic buildings, the old Courier-Journal office building, Fourth and Liberty streets, for almost a half century the home of the Courier-Journal. The loss was estimated at $300,000. Ten years ago the newspaper was moved to another location and the old one converted into an office building.

reception and exhibition in Lincoln hall last evening. Amidst the applause of several hundred persons the youthful pupils of Mr. Stanton gave a wonderful exhibition of dancing as portrayed by various characters, each dancer being beautifully attired in an appropriate costume. The program was topped off by six class dances, they being a waltz, a fox trot, free arm movement, technical exercises, "Pompadour Gavotte," skirt dance, and flag dance, in which 30 girl pupils took part. Following the group dancing each little girl gave an individual performance in a manner that reflected unusual credit on both dancer and teacher. After the exhibition Mr. Stanton was warmly congratulated over the success of the affair and for the splendid manner his pupils performed. At the piano, Miss Marion Ryan accompanied the dancers' excellent music. Shortly before 10 o'clock the program was completed and the general dancing started lasting until midnight.

The program was as follows: Waltz, fox trot, free arm movements, class, technical exercises, pompadour gavotte, group; skirt dancing, group; flag dance, esthetic, Mabel Dolan; the rainbow, classic, Mary Sullivan; Virellette, classic, Lillian Langston; The Dark Interpretive, Mary Rupa; Pompadour, esthetic, Margaret Joyce; Sen Phells, interpretive, Agnes Cullen; Sleepy Time, interpretive, Ursula Hosmer; Jack Tars, national, group; Pe-

N. Y. GANG ATTACKS SWAMPSCOTT MAN

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Charles Banforth of Swampscott, Mass., chief petty officer of the steamship Mount Clay, was seriously injured last night when seven men, thought by the police to be hoodluggers, attacked him on the

After fevers the blood is generally left in a thin, weak state and the recovery of health and strength is impossible until the normal condition of the blood is restored. This is especially true after attacks of rheumatic fever because in no other disease does the blood become thin with such rapidity. The anemia, or bloodlessness, that follows rheumatic fever is well known to physicians.

It is, possible by correct diet and the use of the right tonic medicine to build up the blood in such cases so that recovery will be rapid and permanent. In all rheumatic conditions, unless the blood is attended to there is always danger of relapse. That is the reason so many people have rheumatism year after year.

Mr. W. A. Reynolds, a carpenter, of No. 5 Bennett street, Augusta, Me., had four attacks of rheumatic fever. He had medical treatment but the disease left him system in a serious condition. "I was extremely nervous and run down," he says, "and whenever I would overdo I would be all of a tremble. Night after night I would lie in bed without sleep. My work makes me climb in high places and I was so nervous and dizzy that I would be glad when it was time to quit."

"One day I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the paper and was led to try them. Before I had used them a week I felt better. I could sleep better and my appetite was keener. I arose in the morning refreshed by good night sleep. I used five boxes in all and they completely restored the strength of my body and the steadiness of my nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a reliable tonic and I am glad to have my statement published for the benefit of others."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 60 cents per box. Write for the free booklet on nervous disorders.—Adv.

BOXING

Many new faces are listed among the talent to perform at this week's amateur tournament on Thursday night, and included in the many are several from out of town.

"Deak" Dodge, who is arranging the bouts has received requests for application blanks from Nashua, Lawrence and several other places, and as he has forwarded the necessary papers he is confident a good sized delegation will come here to participate in the tournament.

Of the local boys, who appeared at the previous show, and made good with a capital C, and who have signified their intention of again taking part are: Jim Duffy, Pete Hickey, Harry Cavallaro, and several others. This quartet displayed some very clever work in their introductory numbers, and much is expected of them on Thursday night.

More classes have been established for the meeting, principally in the 105, 110 and 112 divisions.

The decision to make these three classes out of the large number wishing to perform. All could have been put into one class, but in order to give every fighter a chance to win a prize, three classes have been put on the card, with suitable prizes for all.

The biggest trouble in lining up the performers is found among the big fellows, there being a dearth of candidates for the 135-pound class. Here is furnished a splendid opportunity for bachelors to get into the events and land a watch.

While Mr. Dodge declares his entry list is larger than ever, he still has room for many others.

Chick Hayes, who has appeared in local rings on several occasions, is now devoting most of his time to training there for ring work. He and Harry Kelly have a big gymnasium in Bowdoin Square, Boston, and fans who enjoy watching boys prepare for battle are flocking there every afternoon. At the present time many of the leading ring men of this section are working out there. Among those seen in action this week are: Pat Rice, who boxes in Boston on Jan. 12, and Jimmy Clinton who will train for his battle with K. O. Chaney, which will take place in Philadelphia, Bobby Tyson, Joe Egan, Dan Howard, Young Chaney, Shavey, and others. Also, Tommy Robinson, Harry Silva, Mickey Travers, Irish Paddy Flynn, and others.

With the Old Time Diamond Heroes

Many a story has been told of the late James H. O'Rourke, a prominent figure in New England and major league baseball. The following article appeared about him a dozen years ago:

James H. O'Rourke, known in those days as Jim O'Rourke and "The Orator," was the leading left fielder in the National League in 1913. He was playing ball up to 1919. He played ball with the Boston Red Sox, Portland, Conn., in 1917, and accordingly has been on the diamond some 12 years. As he was born in Ireland, on August 1, 1881, he was playing ball in his 35th year, which in itself is somewhat of a record.

In his life on the diamond O'Rourke won the respect of not only his fellow players but of baseball patrons the country over, for besides being a baseball player of the first water, he was a gentleman. When not engaged during the playing season, he put in his time studying law and in the team he played he was generally the big brother and adviser of his fellow players.

To them he was always a kindly, gentle spirit in whom they placed all confidence. In the first water, he was never derided to a mean action either on the field or off of it. He started as a catcher, pitcher and outfielder and was generally in 1917. He played so well with them that four years later he was a player with the Orioles of Hartford. In 1922 he quit the Hartford to join the new Mansfield of Middletown, Conn., team which then had in its ranks John Clapp and Tim Murnane, two players of later world wide reputation. From the Mansfield he went to the great Boston Red Sox, who played there from 1915 to '18. In their 78 season he made the memorable trip to Europe with them.

In 1919 O'Rourke went to Providence with George Wright and helped to land the pennant. The next season saw him back in Boston again. In 1921 and 1922 he captained and played with Buffalo and from 1923 to 1929 he was with the New York Yankees, who won the pennant in 1923 and 1925. He was identified with the "Players" League team of New York in 1930, but was back again with the New York Giants in 1931 and 1932 and in 1933 he ended his career as a major league player with the Boston Braves. He tried his hand at umpiring in 1934 but finished the season with the St. Josephs of Bridgeport. In 1935 he was manager of the Bridgeport team. In 1936 he organized the Nantuxet Valley League, and was manager and captain of the Bridgeport entry.

In 1936 he assisted to organize the Connecticut league and was its first president. It is estimated during his career he played in 1950 major and Players League games and in 600 Connecticut league contests. He was considered a great ballman and holder. Tomorrow's article—Charles Radnor.

Expansion of Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (by the Associated Press).—Expansion of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America into a national organization, the staging of the annual championship games in sections of the country other than the east, appear to be likely developments at the annual meeting here on Jan. 4.

Proposed amendments to the constitution and statements made at the joint meeting of the executive and advisory committees here last week are said to indicate a broadening of the scope of the oldest collegiate sports governing body of America. One of the most important amendments would provide that in college holding membership in the I.C.A.A.A. would not be dropped in case it were not represented in the titular track and cross-country championships at least once in two consecutive years.

That the adoption of such amendment might result in the 1922 championship games being held in the middle west is not unlikely, it is expected that the first step in this direction will be made in the presentation of an invitation from the University of Michigan to stage the event. Ann Arbor next May or certainly not later than 1923. Notably the 1922 games would go to the University of Pennsylvania in the ordinary rotation between Harvard and Pennsylvania.

Last year's games were held in the Harvard stadium and were won by the University of California by half a point from Harvard.

It then Quigley with 33. The others are Evans 27, Dufresne 16, and Grifflin 6.

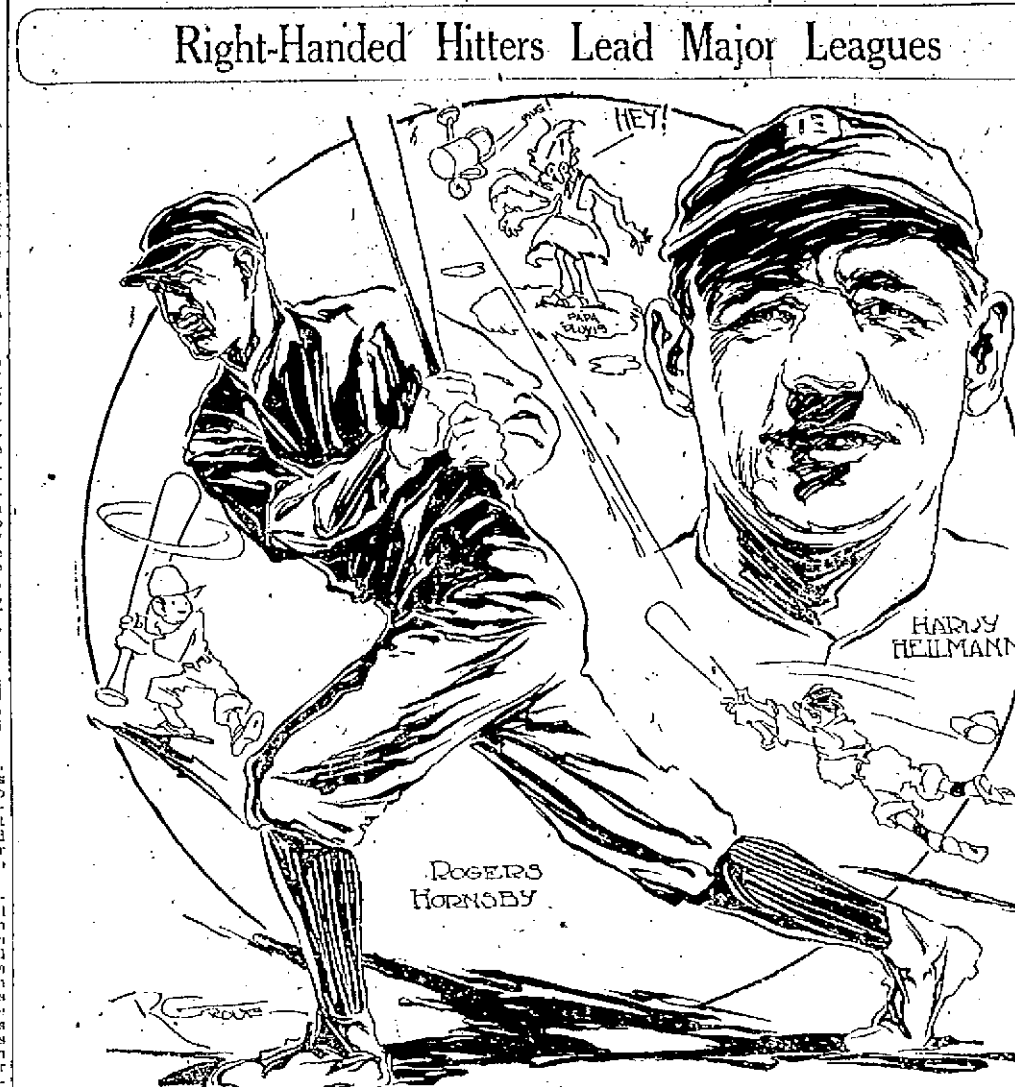

In the halfback department (Leon) in the leader with 12. Tommy Morrison 11, Matthews 6, Morrison 1 and Gardner 5.

A glance of the averages gives conclusive proof of why the Fall River team is regarded as the most dangerous in the league. Williams, with a batting 156 goals to his credit, has batted 102, Jean 144 and Matthews 6. The team has a total of 311 goals for the season. Woonsocket is in the lead with 234. Providence third with 227. New Bedford fourth with 227. Fall River fifth with 215 and Woonsocket last with 177.

Lowell's low score may cause considerable surprise but the fact is that the team has not had a single goal and has lost more games by small and close scores than any other team in the league.

Hardy and Donnelly, both of the Worcester team, are having a great race for leading "villain" in the league. The latter has a charge, but Hardy leading by one point, he having erred 22 times, in Donnelly's 21.

This plan is at stake in tonight's Lowell-Fall River game. If Lowell should win it would capture the position with a percentage of 52.7, and Fall River would be back to back with Woonsocket with a percentage of 53. If Lowell is defeated the position will remain as they are today, only the gap will be considerably widened.

BY HILLY EVANS
Rogers Hornsby of St. Louis led the National league in batting during the season of 1921.

Harry Hellmann of Detroit captured the swart honors in the American league last season.

There is nothing new in the above announcement.

It so happens that both Hornsby and Hellmann are right-handed batsmen and have held away most of the time. In the National league right-handers have been a trifle more successful than in the American league.

When Hellmann beat out Cobb in 1921 after a hectic struggle that lasted throughout the year, it was the first time since 1904 that a right-handed hitter landed on the top in the American league.

In 1904 those two great hitters, Nap Lajoie and Hans Wagner, led the American league hitters. Stone was the premier batter in the American and National leagues.

Eight years later he possessed a tenor that drew him an offer from Mike O'Hara to tour the country with him.

In the meantime Mahoney's flexible nature got him into the boxing ring. And besides a tenor voice he possessed an Adam's apple.

In the lapse of 17 years a right-handed batter would occasionally carry off the honors in the National league, but not until 1921 did two right-handers equal the performance of Lajoie and Wagner.

In the American league left-handed batters have held away most of the time. In the National league right-handers have been a trifle more successful than in the American league.

When Hellmann beat out Cobb in 1921 after a hectic struggle that lasted throughout the year, it was the first time since 1904 that a right-handed hitter landed on the top in the American league.

In 1904 those two great hitters, Nap Lajoie and Hans Wagner, led the American league hitters. Stone was the premier batter in the American and National leagues.

ROWD STORMS HEARING OFFICER BOUGHT W

00 at Court House for Adams Street Man Arrested

Hearing on Petition Relative to Closed Bank

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—A crowd of 500 men and women, some of them with their faces blacked, stormed the hearing in the supreme court today on petitions relating to the distribution of dividends from the funds of the closed Hanover Trust and Cosmopolitan Trust companies. The audience would become so noisy that police sergeant William Sullivan and Ivan and Cosette of the liquor law bureau were called in. At 11 o'clock this morning arrested George P. Adams on a charge of being an agent for the sale of 100 barrels of wine contained in 100 barrels, after, they allege, Poulakis sold one of the officers a bottle of wine for 60 cents. The alleged

The crowd that went to the conference were nearly all foreigners who thought that the dividends, been summoned to Judge Crosby, who presided at the hearing, said that although the rights of the depositors were not being protected by the one who so desired could be heard. None of the depositors made any statement.
